TWO MEN WOUNDED BY SHOTS FROM AMBUSH AT KLAN MEETING

Fred Woods, Rushville Barber, And
Revin Roberts, Of Near Moscow
Hit By Stray Bullets

SHOTS AIMED AT SPEAKER

Spent Bullet Struck Woods In Forehead As He Sat On Hillside With Child In His Lap

ROBERTS' HAND PIERCED

Bullet Passes Through Palm, Strikes
Him In Mouth And Shatters Metal
Plate Of False Teeth

Two men were painfully injured and the lives of hundreds of men, women and children were endangered Monday night about 9:30 o'clock when shots were fired from ambush into a massed meeting of a Ku Klux Klan on the old Rush county fair grounds, just east of the city.

The men injured were Fred Woods a barber of this city, who resides at 324 West Fifth street, and Revin (Reece) Roberts, a farmer, who resides a mile north of Moscow in Orange township.

Woods was shot with a 45-calibre, steel-jacket bullet, probably from a revolver or army rifle. The bullet hit him a glancing blow, which saved his life. It imbedded itself into the flesh on his forehead, and was removed by physicians soon afterwards.

The bullet gave the appearance of having struck a tree or some other object, and was badly mangled on the point. Mr. Woods was sitting on a hillside listening to the opening remarks of the speaker, and his son Robert was sitting in his lap.

Mr. Roberts in some manner had his hand near his face, and the bullet of a similar type, pierced his hand, and went through, striking the upper lip on his face, and shattered the metal plate of his false teeth, which detracted the bullet, and he spit it out.

The meeting of the Klansmen was supposed to have been a dual initiation, with men and women being candidates. The speaker was said to have been the Rev. Mr. Cain of Mooresville, Ind. The meeting had just got under way, and the introductory song had been sung.

A crowd estimated at two thousand and had gathered around the speaker.

GRANT PETITION TO ERECT A MONUMENT

Commissioners Allow Privilege To Build Memorial To Gen. P. A.
Hackleman On Court House Lawn

SEVERAL CONTRACTS ARE LET

The county commissioners Monday granted a petition for permission to erect a monument or memorial in honor of General Pleasant A.
Hackleman, of this county, the only Indiana general killed during the civil war, on the northwest corner of the court house yard. The petition was signed by Frank G.
Hackleman, Earl H. Payne and A. L.
Gary.

The terms of the will of Ira W.
Ayres, probated on September 17, 1915, provided funds for the erection of such a monument or memorial and the petitioners merely went through the formality of asking the commissioners for permission to erect it on the court house lawn.

The commissioners awarded the contract for the Laverne Dunn macadam road in Richland township to Avery and Weintraut of Waldron,
Ind., the only bidders, for $8,750.

Contracts for coal for the court house and jail were awarded to William Trennepohl and John P.
Frazee and Son, the former for two cars of Island Creek at $7.50 a ton and the latter for one car of Campbell's Creek at the same figure.

Poor infirmity supply contracts were let as follows: Ed Haywood, meat; the Manzy Co., dry goods; J.
L. Cowing, Son and Co., Clothing and men's shoes; Varley and Varley groceries.

TO TRY DAYLIGHT FLIGHT

Lieut. Maughan to Attempt to Cross Continent in 17 Hours

(By United Press)

New York, July 3.—Lieut. Russel
M. Maughan, who will attempt to fly from New York to San Francisco in seventeen hours, will make his start Friday, he announced today.
He had planned to start tomorrow.

Four mechanical experts, trained to the minute in the art of refueling and hurriedly making some mechanical repairs in the machinery, have gone ahead, one dropping off at each of the four fields, at which the dawn-to-twilight tourist expects to halt enroute.

The four stops are Dayton, Ohio,
St. Joseph, Mo., Cheyenne Wyo., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO PIONEERS

President Harding Says New Assurance Of America's Greatness
Is Found In Their Lives

IN A REMINISCENT MOOD

Puts Aside All Discussion Of Great
And Troublesome Issues To Talk
Of Great Men

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With President Harding, Micahama, Ore., July 3.—New assurances of American greatness lie in the recollection of the heroism and resolution of the pioneers who settled the great Northwest. President Harding said today in a speech here at the Oregon trail celebration.

The president in reminiscent mood recalled the glamorous days of the pioneer and for one day put aside all discussion of great and troublesome issues to talk of great men and great days long gone.

He took as his theme the work of Marcus Whitman, pioneer whose efforts saved Oregon to the United States at a time when it appeared Great Britain was certain to get it.
He told how Secretary of State Daniel Webster and other great men of the time, supported by public opinion, held the Oregon country practically worthless.

He related how Whitman made a personal appeal to President Tyler in Washington after a perilous trip across the continent and how they granted his plea that no great action be taken until Whitman had been given time to lead as a sturdy band of colonists into Oregon. The settling of the country by these men and women saved the Oregon country to the United States.

"Never in the history of the world had there been a finer example of civilization following Christianity," said President Harding. "The missionaries led under the banner of the cross and the settlers moved close behind the Star Spangled symbol of the nation. Among all the records of the evangelizing efforts of the forerunner of human advancement, there is none so impressive as this early Oregon mission and its marvelous consequences."

Fight is On Again

The Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight championship prize fight, which was called off at Shelby,
Mont., last night, will be fought.
Promoters came to agreement with Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, who accepted the $200,000 already raised as a guarantee, early today, and will take a chance on getting the other $100,000 from the gate receipts.

Gibbons will not make a dime out of the fight, a dispatch from Shelby this afternoon said.

Further news of the proposed bout will be found on page five.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

OPPORTUNITY FOR RUSHCOUNTYBOYS

Naval Reserve Summer Training
Camp to be Established on The Banks of White River

WILL BE OPENED ON JULY 9

Purpose of Project is to Afford
Boys Attractive and Likewise
Profitable Outing

An opportunity for Rush county boys between the ages of 15 and twenty years to attend a U. S. naval summer training camp was disclosed today with the announcement received here that such a camp was being located in Riverside park, Indianapolis, on a broad, green lawn of twenty acres and along the east bank of White river.

The camp will open July 9 and continue until about October 1 and applications are now being received, both from individual boys, and will pay their own expenses, and from organizations sending boys. All applications and requests concerning the camp should be addressed to Commandant U. S. Naval Summer
Training Camp, 17 East North street
Indianapolis. Telephone communication may be established by calling Riley 1612. The camp will have a capacity of 250.

"The camp with its wholesome open air exercise, its beautiful location on White river and its touch of the maritime, will make a stronger appeal to a boy's imagination and interest than anything that could be devised for an organized outing," says a statement by Lieut. F. F.
Knachel, commanding the U. S. naval summer training camp. "The time will be really worth while, and with a liberal gain in mind, muscle, tan and health."

"The purpose of the naval camp is, in brief, according to the announcement received here, 'to afford an attractive and at the same time, a really profitable outing for boys.
The naval course is primarily of value in that it has every requisite of a successful outing, it makes a strong appeal to a boy's natural interests, teaches him to be at home on the water, and affords him an unequalled source of wholesome refreshment and physical benefit. Valuable lessons will be imparted even in such short time, in precision, self-control, obedience and in good carriage and alert and self-confident

HEADLINERS AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

'Sunshine' Hughes, One of Chicago's Well Known Pastors, Has Knocked About The World a Bit and Has a Message for a Rush County Audience.

Down Chicago way they often speak of him affectionately as "Sunshine Hughes." He is one of Chicago's well known pastors, a man of broad culture and extensive travel, whose radiant personality has won for him a host of admirers.

Richard D. Hughes has knocked about the world during the past ten years—whenever his church board could spare him. He has tramped from one end of Europe to the other has uncovered the battlefields of the war zone. He has ambled about in Africa, has studied the Bedouin Arab, has visited Italy and spent much time in England. He has studied life and institutions in all these places and has a wonderful fund of interesting gossip gathered from far-away corners of the globe.

But what is more important, Dr.
Hughes is a remarkable speaker. He has a cultivated style which is eloquent and his voice possesses a rich resonant quality that carries his message to the hearts of his hearers with a cadence of music. He is a man of big ideas and big ideals, and there is a tremendous enthusiasm prevalent in his lectures, whether they be travel talks or discussions of world problems of today.

His subject for Sunday afternoon, August 12 is "As We Saw Europe and as Europe Saw Us."

WILL BE INVITED TO BOLT

Sen. LaFollette Will be Asked to
Head Third Party Movement

Chicago, Ill., July 3.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin, probably will be asked to bolt the republican party and become the presidential candidate of the third party being organized here today.

Wisconsin delegates went into the opening session of the farmer-labor and political minority coalition conference with resolutions drawn extending best wishes to LaFollette and asking the conference to invite him to join a third party project.
Delegates from Iowa backed the Wisconsin people.

LaFollette was tendered the nomination of the farmer-labor party last election but rejected it.

DESPERADO IN GUN BATTLE

Trail of Edmund Rust, Wanted For Murder, Picked up at Little Falls

Little Falls, Minn., July 3.—The trail of Edmund Rust, desperado and fugitive, was picked up here today when he fought a gun duel with Hubert Frischinger, railroad special agent, on top of a Great Northern freight train.

Rust has been unsuccessfully sought by dozens of posses in the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Minnesota since Sunday night when he shot Sheriff R. D. Falker, Aberdeen, S.
D., sheriff to death and leaped from a passenger train near Moorehead.

After exchanging several shots with Frischinger, Rust leaped from the top of the freight train, stole an automobile from a private garage nearby and again escaped.

Neither Rust or Frischinger was wounded in the gun fight.

AUTO TURNS OVER AND FOUR ARE HURT

Machine Carrying Party Enroute to Morristown Strikes Fresh Gravel
and Upsets

GIRL IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Four persons were injured and an automobile was badly damaged in an auto accident which occurred Sunday morning about 11 miles east of Gwynnville. The car, in which seven persons were riding, struck fresh gravel on the Brookville road and was overturned against a telephone pole which was broken in two places by the force of the collision. Miss

Mable Wilson, of Covington, Ky., is probably the most seriously injured and physicians today were unable to determine the extent of her injuries.
The occupants of the machine, which is owned by Walter Hawk, of Ladlow, Ky., were en route to Morristown, to visit J. W. Wilson, of that place. Mr. Wilson's brother, Clarence, and family, Mr. Hawk, Miss Stiefelg, and Miss Mable Wilson were riding in the machine.

Witnesses say that the car was being driven at a rapid rate of speed when it struck the gravel, and that it turned over one and one-half times. In the second turn, it struck the pole and was practically demolished.

Miss Mable Wilson, who was badly injured, was taken to the home of John Sullivan, near Gwynnville, and the rest of the party is at the home of J. W. Wilson, in Morristown.

STEAL $3,000 WORTH OF NEGOTIABLE PAPER

Robbers Make Clean Get-Away After Looting Wabash County
Treasurer's Office

NO EXPLOSIVES ARE USED

(By United Press)

Wabash, Ind., July 3.—Robbers made a clean get-away with $3,000 worth of negotiable securities and bonds from the office of the treasurer of Wabash county, it was revealed today when the vault in the treasurer's office was opened.

The burglars gained entry to the court house by breaking the glass in a side door and turning the inside knob. They worked the combination to the treasurer's vault without the use of explosives. After looting the vault, robbers ransacked the offices of county clerk, auditor and recorder without obtaining any valuables.

It is believed the work was done by experts and that the robbery was committed some time after midnight as one of the county officers was in the building until that hour and heard no unusual noises.

Police are seeking to trail two strangers who were seen hanging around the station here last night in the belief that they had a hand in the robbery.

20,000 EXPECTED

Lebanon, Ind., July 3.—Modern Woodmen of Indiana began gathering here today for the annual two-days' log rolling. Preparations are being made to accommodate nearly 20,000 visitors tomorrow.

THREE LAW SUITS BASED ON MISHAP

William Emsweller Is Sued For Combined Damages Of $10,500 As Result Of Auto Crash

HAPPENED TWO YEARS AGO

Joy A. Croak, Bertha Matthews And
John A. Segelmier, Owner Of Machine, Are Plaintiffs

Three law suits growing out of an automobile accidents two years ago tomorrow have been filed in the circuit court here, all complaints being for damages, and against William Emsweller, 1030 North Morgan street, this city.

Two complaints demand $5,000 each for personal injuries and the third suit is for $500 damages for the automobile which was alleged to have been demolished.

Joy A. Croak is plaintiff in one suit, in which he alleges that he was a passenger in a machine driven by John A. Segelmier, and that it was struck by the defendant on July 4, 1921, at the intersection of Emerson Avenue and the Brookville road, just east of Indianapolis.

The defendant is alleged to have been driving his machine at 50 miles an hour, and was careless in operating it. The plaintiff's machine was not exceeding ten miles an hour according to the complaint.

The plaintiff alleges that as a result of the accident he suffered cuts, bruises and lacerations about the face and body, that his nervous system was shattered and he received a severe rupture. He alleges that he should have $5,000 which is his demand as judgment.

Bertha Matthews, who says she was also a passenger in the machine alleges that as a result of the collision, she suffered lacerations, bruises and that a cut on her head was of a serious nature and required several stitches.

The wound also is alleged to have caused her permanent disfigurement and her nervous system also was shattered. She demands $5,000 for her alleged injuries.

John A. Segelmier, owner and driver of the machine, alleges that the automobile was a total wreck, and that it was of a value of $500, and that the accident was caused by the reckless and careless driving of the defendant.

A complaint for divorce also was filed in the court, in which Hallie
Brown is plaintiff and John M.
Brown, defendant. The plaintiff resides in Mays and the defendant in Rushville, according to the complaint.

WARNS OF RISKS OF FOURTH EXPLOSIVES

Newman T. Miller, State Fire Marshal, Says Practically Every Form
Of Fireworks Is Dangerous

ALL CONTAIN SOME POISON

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.— Practically every form of fireworks contains a dangerous or poisonous substance, Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal, pointed out today in further warning of the risks of Fourth of July explosives. In addition to the laws and city ordinances prohibition fireworks, except under certain conditions, the fire marshal enumerates the dangers of injury, fires, and poisons as reasons for refraining from a fireworks celebration.

Mr. Miller asserted that such fireworks as torpedoes, star mines, one pound skyrockets, roman candles and sons-of-a-gun contain chlorate of potash, a poisonous substance prohibited from sale to children in many states. The barrel snake contains mercuric sulpho-cyanate sufficient to kill 10 adults. Mr. Miller said, and the Indian snakes contain enough of the same substance to kill one adult. In the sons-of-a-gun there is enough yellow phosphorus to kill five adults. This assertion he based on chemical analysis of the fireworks specified made by the University of Wisconsin, at the request of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin.

Housewife Becomes New Woman

"All of our best doctors had given me up. I was unable to leave my bed for 16 weeks and was yellow as a pumpkin, besides the terrible stomach pains I suffered. Our druggist advised my husband to try May's Wonderful Remedy and it has saved my life. I am a new woman now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

AMUSEMENTS

Timely Picture At Princess

Her photograph in fireworks! That's one of the spectacular effects to be seen in "Prodigal Daughters," a Sam Wood production starring Gloria Swanson in the role of "Swiftie" Forbes, a modern girl with a strong will and a determination to live her own life, which will be on view at the Princess Wednesday and Thursday.

In a big Fourth of July celebration at a country home in Long Island where much of the action transpires, a set piece shows a girl outlined in fire and beneath it the name, "Swiftie," will be lined against the night sky. The scenes were made in California on an estate which exactly duplicates Long Island's magnificent country homes.

Miss Swanson, in the role of "Swiftie" Forbes, proved a strong attraction. During the absence of her father who is in Europe, "Swiftie" has broken all rules of convention. On his return he learns that parental discipline is a relic of a passed age and that his daughter insists upon continuing her adventures without restraint. "Swiftie" tries life in Greenwich Village and falls into the toils of a gambler.

In taking a last chance to retrieve her fast dwindling finances, "Swiftie" stakes herself against her debt on the turn of a card. She loses and promises to marry the gambler in sixty days. A few hours before the appointed time, a strange thing happens that would be unfair to tell. Let it suffice to say that "Swiftie" and her younger sister who had accompanied her, return home—"prodigal daughters." There is a tremendous climax.

Ralph Graves efficiently plays opposite the star and gives a splendid presentation of the modern young man who clings to clean ideals and fights to preserve them. The cast generally renders excellent support.

Doris May At Mystic

Motion picture devotees who prefer to laugh when they go to their favorite theatre will find plenty of opportunity to indulge themselves if they see "Up and At 'Em," Doris May's swift moving comedy now at the Mystic Theatre on Wednesday. It's an R-C Picture distributed by the Film Booking Offices of America.

"Up and At 'Em," like all Miss May's vehicles was fashioned chiefly for purposes of laughing. It has its touches of drama, to be sure, but the comedy elements sparkle and glow and make the picture a sheer delight.

Miss May is in her most fetching mood. A gay little maid always she doesn't miss an opportunity to register all the varying shades of comedy and pathos that make her character in "Up and At 'Em," one of the most appealing to which she has ever lent her growing talents.

The story had to do with the adventures of a blithe little girl who takes life as one long good time. Doris May is seldom serious. And in "Up and At 'Em" she keeps the fun bubbling from start to finish. In the cast are such well known artists as Hallam Cooley, Otis Harlan, Clarissa Selwynne, J. Herbert Frank, John Gough and H. Carter. Wm. Stetter, who directed Miss May

yet respectful bearing, which are acquired by strict observance of the rules of naval courtesy and through the influence of a high esprit de corps. The nautical work demands an adequate amount of mental endeavor to keep the mind from growing listless and rusty—signalling, knot tying, splicing, rowing and handling boats, sailing, boxing the compass, maritime customs all provide a fascination for the alert brain. The course offers excellent training in seamanship, navigation, signals, rowing, sailing, physical development and allied subjects.

"The camp differs from all other military camps, in that it will permit boys between the ages of 15 and 20 to attend, at their own expense, and without any obligation to the Navy or Naval Reserve, a camp which gives the benefits of the highly rated private schools. Any parent, friend, or organization is cordially invited to select and send any boy or number of boys to this Camp for a period of one week or as many weeks as desired. Here is a splendid opportunity for two fold service—to your country and to the youth of your community. Officials of manufacturing and mercantile establishments are urged to send their junior male employees for a period of a week or more, thus giving the boys a splendid outing which in the end will react to the benefit of the employer. In addition to parents and friends we urge the various civic, patriotic, church and business organizations to each undertake the selection of a certain number of boys, paying the necessary expense of attendance of such boys. The first expense is the cost of white uniform which is $5.00, the uniform remaining the property of the boy. The only other expense is board, which is $4.50 per week.

"Your assistance in filling this Camp to its capacity of 250 boys will be the means of giving deserving boys a wonderful vacation. More detailed information can be furnished you on request. Please tell fathers and mothers of this splendid opportunity and invite them to send their boys. The Naval Camp can only be a success in the fullest sense by being filled to capacity each week of its operations."

ers stand, which was located within the part of the fair grounds formerly used as a show ring. The speaker had made only a few remarks, when the volley of fire came belching forth from the northwest part of the fair grounds.

The spot from where the shooting came was concealed with bushes, and it was estimated that the distance was 300 yards. Possibly ten shots were fired, all of which were aimed directly at the speaker.

Two guns are believed to have been used, as it was stated today that 38 calibre bullets were found in trees. People were panic stricken when they were being fired upon, and the bullets whistled past their heads, and through the trees.

Many people fell to the ground to lessen their chances of being hit, and others started to run. Many children and women were stepped on in the excitement, but none was seriously hurt in the stampede.

It was reported today that the speaking and initiation would be repeated tonight, and that the same speaker would be here, and the same place will be used.

It is understood that local people are believed to be responsible for the shooting, and an investigation was under way.

Charles Drennen, 708 North Arthur street, an employee of the Innis, Pease factory, had a narrow escape from death, when one of the bullets passed through the sleeve of his left arm, going within a couple of inches of his heart.

Cecil Drennen, a brother, who lives at 412 East Seventh street, stated that last night about 9 o'clock, four men attracted his attention when they passed near his house, and took a diagonal cut down through the commons towards the race.

He said that 25 minutes later, the shots rang out, and in 15 minutes time, he was attracted again by four men running in front of his house, and going west in Seventh street, toward Main street.

The interruption of the program caused the meeting to disband, and a fiery cross was lighted as the crowd was leaving. It is understood that a large number of candidates were expected to be initiated at the close of the speaking.

Admittance to the grounds was said to have been by having the pass word, and Klansmen from all over the county had assembled for the meeting.

Police, Sheriff Hunt and deputies searched for several hours following the affair, but no clue was obtained. The gun used had a long range, and those who did the firing had a good start.

An appeal for bloodhounds was sent to Wayne Alter at St. Paul, but he reported that one of his dogs was poisoned a few days ago, and his other dog was unable to leave her small pups.

Local officers are of the opinion that the would-be murderers will be rounded up in time, and Prosecutor Ketchum has promised a stiff battle in enforcing the law against such lawlessness.

TRIED AND PROVED: — As for God, His way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried; He is a buckler to all them that trust in him. 2 Sam. 22: 31.

Fair Ground Shooting

The shooting into the crowd during a Ku Klux Klan initiation at the fair grounds Monday night, resulting in wounding of two persons, is strongly to be condemned.

The person or persons responsible for the shooting should be brought to justice, if possible, and be made to pay the penalties of the law.

No right-thinking person will condone acts of this character because they jeopardize the lives of innocent people and only serve to arouse hatred and ill feelings.

The organization holding the initiation at the fair grounds was perfectly within its rights, was not molesting anyone, was not interfering with the rights of anyone and was not disturbing the peace of the community in which the initiation was being held.

Those who took it upon themselves to fire into the crowd of men, women and children can not be too severely condemned because only a strange fate prevented numbers from being killed and those who did the firing from being hunted down as murderers.

Acts of violence serve no good purpose. They never settle any controversy, but add fuel to the flames.

All good people, regardless of their faith or belief, will regret exceedingly that anyone should be so thoughtless as to commit a deed like the one last night, and will cling to the hope that it will never be repeated.

Ill-Advised Legislation

Fire insurance affects directly the protection and credit of every individual.

Representatives in legislatures are prone to believe that every evil, or every practice that they think is evil, can be remedied by legislation. They wish to regulate by statute personal and business conduct of every kind. Laws are piled upon laws; proposals for state and municipal ownership in various fields, and other paternalistic measures are common. In Arizona a bill for a state cement plant and another for a state fund insuring state employees were introduced recently; in Colorado it was urged that the state should write automobile insurance; and a similar bill was introduced in Massachusetts, where an effort was made to compel insurance companies to invest forty percent of their premiums in dwelling houses.

In theory these measures are appealing, but in practice they tend to disturb business. Insurance is the basis of credit. When a man has a fire and his property is insured he wants his money at once. Insurance reserves must be kept in assets that can be turned into cash immediately. If forty percent of insurance companies' funds were loaned on dwellings, and a conflagration should strike a community during a period of depression, it would be impossible for the companies to convert their mortgages into cash with sufficient speed to pay insurance claims as promptly as would be desired.

This illustrates an ill-advised measure which would undermine the stability of a business that is vital to the nation.

FIND MORE EVIDENCE

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 2—Continuing the investigation started Saturday when Judge Purcell and James Logan, operators of a local paint shop, were arrested as alleged leaders of an automobile theft ring, officials again raided the shop and arrested Ray Bodson, shop foreman on a charge of unlawfully possession of an automobile. The car, a high grade machine, practically new, was found to have been stolen in Toledo, Ohio.

OPEN AIR MEETING

There will be a special open air meeting, given under the auspices of the United Brethren church, tonight, at the home of Mr. Thrillkill in North Hannah street. Captain Samsel of the Salvation Army will bring the message. Everyone is cordially invited to be present.

THE FATHERS
By BERTON BRALEY

The Fathers of our Country were in no wise afraid

Of all the might and power that George the Third displayed, They signed the Declaration Which made this land a nation.

Nor thought the price of liberty too heavy to be paid.

The Fathers of our Country, they held a vision true,

A vision of democracy, and bravely saw it through;

With all their strength they wrought for it

And what is more—they fought for it And held their purpose steady as brave men always do!

Because their hearts were fearless, because their aims were just

Their spirit lives among us when all their bones are dust,

And if our nation flourishes It is because it nourishes

The dream of human freedom in which they put their trust.

And this is our inheritance to hold and to maintain;

Not selfish isolation or sordid greed of gain

But faith in the ideal Of making freedom real,

A light to guide humanity through all the world's domain!

The Fathers of our Country beneath it's soil are laid,

But those immortal words they wrote shall never pale or fade,

And while their faith enfolds us And their great vision holds us

Then, like our Country's Fathers we shall not be afraid!

Great Falls, Mont., July 3.—Taking a gambler's and a sportsman's chance, Jack Kearns, in the wee hours of this morning agreed to send Jack Dempsey into the ring against Tommy Gibbons July 4.

Kearns is taking a "stud game" chance that he will be able to obtain the $300,000 purse guaranteed him in his contract.

After a whole night spent in conferences, during which Kearns made overtures after overtures to compromise and help the promoters out of their difficulties, it was finally agreed that Kearns should accept the $200,000 that has already been paid him on behalf of the champion, and gamble on the gate receipts to make the additional $100,000.

Throughout the conferences, during which efforts were made to learn the real responsible authorities for the fight, Kearns offered every proposition that he knew of to make the fight good. He suggested a postponement of a month; he offered to fight for $250,000 and he expressed his willingness to go on the $200,000 that had already been paid to him, and to take his chance of getting the rest of the $300,000 purse from the gate after the expenses of the show, including the purses for the preliminaries, the salaries of the ushers and the special policemen had been paid.

As matters now stand the promoters would appear to be facing a certain loss of thousands of dollars in putting on the fight. The sale of tickets had been stopped and started so many times that no one appears to have a very definite idea of how many have been sold.

Consequently, in view of the complete financial chaos prevailing the conferences last night began to develop a willingness on the part of the promoters to let the match go by default.

For the past weeks Kearns has been the object of criticism for insisting upon payment of the final $100,000 before permitting Dempsey to go in the ring. But when the final conferences were reached Kearns appears to have been the aggressor in seeking a way out of the financial tangle and putting on the fight. The promoters appeared to be getting to the point where they figured calling the fight off would be the cheapest way out for them.

Jack Kearns left for Shelby on an early train. He intended to look over final arrangements there and see how the last minute tickets sales were coming on.

After the agreement had been effected, Kearns said he was actuated throughout by the desire to be "a good fellow" and a "sportsman".

He declared he felt he had done his part inasmuch as he had not declared the contract invalidated at midnight when the final payment of his purse was not forthcoming and when it was within his legal rights to declare the fight off.

During the early morning conferences, George Stanton, Great Falls banker, and all the committee of financiers interested in the fight admitted they didn't have one single cent with which to guarantee the final payment of the Dempsey purse.

It was then that Kearns made terms by which a settlement was reached. Kearns said today he was going to Shelby to look the situation over and have something to say about the sale of tickets on the final day.

During all the excitement the champion was spending all his time at the training camp playing hearts with his sparring partners and a few friends who had jumped away from the financial frenzy of the town to keep him company.

Kearns said he had signed the contract in good faith and had turned down several good offers for the champion on the national holiday but that he had signed a contract with persons he thought responsible and that he was willing and ready to go through with it.

Kearns also declared he had been unable to learn who was in charge of the Shelby ticket office and that he was leaving this morning to watch the sale of the tickets.

The manager of the champion said also that he had reached an agreement with Eddie Kane, manager of the challenger and that they had agreed there would be a fight for the world's heavyweight championship in Shelby July 4 between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons.

BALLOONS TO BE GASSED TONIGHTPreparations To Begin For National Elimination Race At Speedway
Wednesday Afternoon

FOURTEEN BALLOONS ENTERED

Will Be Released At Intervals Of
Five Minutes—Army And Navy
Represented

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3. — Inflation of the fourteen balloons entered in the national elimination balloon race will begin late today at the Indianapolis motor speedway in preparation for the take off tomorrow afternoon.

Throughout the night gas will be poured into the giant bags from mains laid direct from a nearby gas plant.

A special quality of gas has been provided for the balloons and tests of the product made yesterday showed that it was of a quality which promised a new long distance record for a national balloon race.

Men working in shifts will watch the balloons constantly from the time inflation is started until the pilots cast their moorings away and soar away on the long flight.

It requires ten men to handle one balloon.

The fourteen balloons are lined up in parallel rows ready for inflation. They will be released at intervals of five minutes, starting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The United States army has entered three balloons and the United States navy four balloons. Capt. Charles E. McMillough, of Baltimore, will pilot the American Legion balloon, the "American Legionnaire."

Ralph H. Upson will pilot a balloon for the city of Detroit, and H. E. Honeywell will represent the city of St. Louis with an entry.

Major General Mason Patrick, chief of the army air service will reach Indianapolis today for the races. Admiral W. A. Moffat of the navy is also expected to be here.

Weather bureau reports today indicated that the prevailing winds will be from the south and southwest, which will carry the balloons in a northeasterly direction.

It is expected that several of the craft will cross the Great Lakes and land in Canada.

It may be three or four days before the winner is known, in the event that the man who travels the longest distance lands in the Canadian woods and has difficulty in getting in touch with the outside world.

The Score Board

Coming from behind after being held to two hits for six innings, the Cincinnati Reds drove Alexander from the mound in the eighth and won from Chicago 9 to 8.

Two home runs with men on bases enabled the Boston Red Sox to defeat the Athletics 7 to 4.

Hamilton was invincible in the pinches and Pittsburgh won from St. Louis 4-1.

Babe Ruth got his 15th home run when the New York Yanks went on a batting spree and won from Washington 13 to 1.

The St. Louis Browns halted Chicago's winning streak with timely hitting and won 7 to 2.

Williams poled his 22nd home run and the Phils beat New York 10 to 4, scoring their first victory over the champions in 13 games.

SHELBY GOES WILD

Shelby, Mont., July 3—Shelby today greeted the magic words "the fight is on" with a western celebration that grew wilder every minute.

Gloom and disappointment that has hovered over the place for days turned into cheering at sunrise and the greeting given Jack Kearns' agreement assumed all the elements of a young riot.

First word was received over press wires where a group of fight fans kept watch all night. As they flocked into the street a strange throng greeted them.

Gentle women from the east who came with their husbands to see the cowboys, the mountains and the fight; cowboys from the round-up and the wild west shows, and leather-jacketed oilmen with girls in bun-galow aprons on their arms joined

New York, July 4—An analysis of the gate receipts of football, baseball, boxing, tennis racing and minor sport events show that they are out-drawing the United States Steel Corporation or the Standard Oil.

Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, went into horse racing for sport. But he has made more money out of it than he will get out of Teapot Dome—more money than anyone else during the season.

A tabulation result recently showed earnings of $194,000 for the Rameocas stable, of which he is owner. The amount is being swelled by new winnings every day.

Zev, the king of the 3-year-olds, contributed the largest amount, winning five first places—up to the time of this tabulation—for a total of $144,966. Grey Lag won four first places and one second for $26,900. Mad Hatter contributed $8,200. Little Chief $7,700 and Tester, Flying Cloud, Outline, Rigel, Whirlwind, Knobbie, Alladin, Bud Lerner and Sheridan turned in purses from $5,000 own to $1,500. Total $194,000.

Add to this the winnings of the other stable owners, the gate receipts at the various parks, the amount taken in at the hundred or more professional baseball games every afternoon of the season, the paid ad-

in the demonstration, the like of which Shelby has not known since the armistice.

Women Should Act Quickly

When a woman finds herself affected with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, dark circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health, and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

Salem entertained to dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Webb and daughter Hattie of west of Rushville, Mrs. Mathew Walker and son Howard and Arthur and Floyd French, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krammes, of south of Orange. In the evening Mrs. Lawrence Harmon and son Richard of Rushville and Mr. and Mrs. John Newham and Richard Wilson of Mays were their guests. The afternoon was spent informally with music.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stevens and son were pleasantly surprised Sunday when a number of friends and relatives called at their home to remind the former of his twenty-third birthday anniversary. At the noon hour a beautiful picnic dinner was served and the afternoon was enjoyed socially. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Urey and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Tash and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gates and daughter of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Patterson and son of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Matney of this city, and Mrs. Hattie Hall of Omaha, Neb.

The Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church enjoyed a splendid program Monday evening, when the Circle was entertained at the home of Miss Rowena Kennedy in West Seventh street. Mrs. Curt Hester was leader of the program and she gave an interesting talk on "The Woman in The Early Church." The new president Mrs. Nettie Glendinning gave a report of the convention at Frankfort, Ind., held recently, and Mrs. Scott Hosier talked on "Women in Modern Missions." Miss Kennedy gave several musical selections during the program. In the serving of delicious refreshments, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Dale Fisher and Mrs. Wilbur Wilson.

Mrs. Maria Smullen entertained the Sunshine Embroidery Club of Raleigh last Thursday afternoon at her home in Bentonville. The following program was presented: piano solo, "Moonlight On the Hudson," Elsie Mason; violin solo, "O Sole Mio," Mary Mason; song, "You've Got to See Mamma," Vera Freeman; piano solo, "Libesfren," Mary Patton; violin solo, "Souvenir," Frances Hackleman; song, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," Vera Freeman and Willard Charles Smullen; trio, "Stories," Milo Aiken, saxophone, Frances Hackleman, violin, Albert Smullen, piano; song, "You Tell Her I Stutter," Mary Patton.

After the program a delicious two course luncheon was served. The trio Milo Aiken, Frances Hackleman and Albert Smullen rendered selections during the luncheon. Mrs. Smullen is an honorary member of the Sunshine Club. She proved herself a delightful hostess.

On the same evening, Ruth Donicker, John Boyd, Doris Darnell, Franklin Martin, Olin Davis, Clifford Patton, and those who assisted Mrs. Smullen with the afternoon program were entertained with an informal evening party. Music, dancing and games were enjoyed. An unusual feature of the evening was the participation of eight piano players in the entertainment.

Larline Council 296, Degree of Poehontas, will hold their regular stated meeting Thursday night at eight o'clock, when the installation of officers will be held. Each member is urged to bring a cake, as refreshments will be served.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Charles Leslie Overstreet, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Marie Elouise Matthews, of Crosswell, Mich., which took place at the home of the bride's parents, June 22. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Matthews, as maid of honor, and by Miss Adelaide Overstreet, sister of the bride-groom as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Overstreet, father of the bridegroom, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet will make their home in Saranac, New York. The bridegroom is a grandson of Mrs. Sadie Mowers of this city and is the son of Mrs. Charles Overstreet, who was formerly Miss Dorothy Cole of this city.

"We may reasonably do more today than rejoice in possession of the imperial domain which the pioneers revealed and the life they made possible to the virile, aspiring and confident northwest. I find new assurances in recalling the heroism, the resolution, the will to conquer of these pioneers.
"Much the same spirit was revealed in the making of the central west. The lesson cannot fail to impress itself. In this test of self-reliant citizenship there came militant wholesome west. Greater things were wrought, greater accomplishment was wrought, greater victory was won in this wholesome, inspiring individualism than will ever attend paternalism or government assumption of the tasks which see the natural inheritance of the builders who may better serve for themselves."

JURY DEADLOCKED

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3—Nineteen hours argument found the criminal court jury still hopelessly deadlocked over the fate of Edwin A. Hunt. The jury was locked up Monday night after hearing the evidence in Hunt's trial, being charged with conspiracy with Richard Spie, former county clerk, to embezzle $10,000 in county trust funds held by Spie in 1921.

Skeletons of People Born Million Years Before King Tut Unearthed Near Paris

Paris, July 3—Geological experts, after detailed study of thirty or forty skeletons of men, women and children, unearthed recently at Creil, near Paris, have exploded the theory that they were those of victims of the religious wars of the reign of Henri IV., proving instead that they are the remains of pre-historic man, going back to the latest period of the stone age.

Tutankamen, the discovery of whose tomb in the Valley of the Kings has aroused such intense interest throughout the world, was born probably a million years later than those people whose skeletons have just been brought to light.

They belonged to the epoch in which man had learned the art of polishing stones to make weapons and tools. Priceless specimens of these have been found in the soil around the grotto which served as a sepulchre. They include lances, knives and other cutting instruments, arrow heads and even a saw, all admirably carved and polished. There are also bone awls and several pendants of greenish hard slate, punched with holes.

"The people of the neolithic, or polished stone age," said M. Louis Giraux, former vice-president of the Prehistoric Society of France, who made an exhaustive report for the International Anthropological Institute, "buried their dead in various ways. Sometimes they were cremated. Sometimes, as in the present case they were subjected to a process which destroyed the flesh but left the bones, which were then interred in grottoes similar to that at Creil.

"In the construction of the grottoes the excavators naturally used stone instruments—flint being most in vogue—to dig into the hard material known to geologists as 'Ypres sand.' Certain layers of this sand are especially hard, forming what we call 'tables.' One of these 'tables' becomes the ceiling of the grotto and you can imagine its strength when you remember that it has supported the weight of fifty feet of rock resting above it for all the countless centuries. Slabs of limestone closed the entrance. It is a great pity that the grotto at Creil could not be preserved intact."

TRASH CATCHES FIRE

The fire department was called this afternoon about 2:30 to the residence of 526 North Arthur street, where a burning trash pile threatened to burn a shed. The blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived, and no loss was reported. The firemen made a run to the same place last week.

GILSON FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

The funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Gilson, who died Monday at Oxford, O., will be held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the late residence, 592 West Second street, in charge of the Rev. L. E. Brown. Interment will be held in East Hill cemetery.

Still a Girl

In bloom and beauty — due to clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 32 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19. My complexion is as soft and rosy as a debutante's. My skin is as smooth and youthful as 40 years ago.

All women marvel at my looks when they see me play young girls' parts. But my same methods brought like results to scores of my beautiful friends. So I am convinced that most women can, in these ways, multiply their beauty and preserve their bloom.

Now I have arranged so all who wish may employ the methods which did so much for me.

White New-type Clay

The chief essential is complexion clay. Famous beauties have for ages used it. No woman can without it look her best. The users of facial clay stand out in any crowd.

French experts introduced clay to me some 20 years ago. But clays since then have been very much improved. The crude and muddy clays so many use today are out-of-date.

Able scientists have been studying clays for 20 years and over. They have found that a certain mineral-laden clay brings maximum results. They have learned how to refine it by removing the useless mud. The clay I use—my Youth Clay—is white and clean and dainty.

They have found some added factors which bring multiplied results. So the oldest users of crude, old-time clays will be amazed at this new clay.

What Youth Clay Does

Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs it. Thus it removes the causes of sallowness, blackheads and blemishes.

It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and renew it. The result is that rosy afterglow, that seeming new complexion. Many women, in 30 minutes, seem to drop ten years.

It firms the skin, smooths out lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. My own face shows clearly what constant use will do. I owe my fame and fortune largely to this clay.

Abandon those crude clays which I quit many years ago. See what White Youth Clay can do. It will bring you, as to me, multiplied effects.

All druggists and toilet goods dealers now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay. Price 50c, and $1 per tube. Also my Youth cream, based on lemon and strawberry. This should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

See what Youth Clay does. You owe that to yourself. If you are not delighted with the first tube, your dealer will return its price. I want no woman to ever lose by taking my advice.

SENDS REBATE TO THE FARM BUREAU

Forwards Check For $848 As Additional Rebate

REFUND FOR THE MEMBERS

All Who Shipped Stock To Association
In Indianapolis Will Be Benefitted By It

Charles V. Spencer, Rush county farmer who is a member of the board of directors of the Producers Commission association at the Indianapolis stock yards, announced this morning that the Producers Commission association, besides rebating 30 per cent of the commissions paid in by some 90 individual members of the association in Rush county, has sent a check for $848 to the office of the county farm bureau to be distributed as a commission rebate to members of the farm bureau who consigned stock to the farmers commission firm at Indianapolis.

According to Mr. Spencer, the farmers' company is rebating $42,000 representing 30 per cent of the commissions paid in, to individual members of the Producers Commission association and members of the county farm bureaus and livestock shipping associations.

"We are proud of the accomplishments of the farm bureau and the Producers Commission association," said Mr. Spencer, who went on to say, that the work of the organization has not only meant this great saving in marketing expense, but has been a great factor in stabilizing the market.

"The rapid growth of the organization and the results it has accomplished in its first year have exceeded all expectations," Mr. Spencer says, and he sees further development along these lines as more farmers learn the advantage of acting together in the matter of livestock marketing. According to Mr. Spencer, volume of business is the factor that will spell increasing success for this phase of the organized farmers program.

The refund checks will go out to the members of the farm bureau just as soon as the office can check the lists and mail them out. It is suggested that the members can make the task of checking the refunds next year easier, if they will use care in billing their stock, seeing that it is billed to the Producers

HOW YEASTY CREAM CAN BE OVERCOME

BY E. H. PARFITT

(Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station)

Yeast cream always causes considerable loss during this time of the year and can be overcome by a little more care on the producer's and buyer's part, which in turn will yield big returns. Yeasty cream can readily be detected by its odor and foamy condition. In receiving rooms of creameries the can covers are sometimes violently thrown when the seals are broken and the cream foams out of the can. Also in transit if the cover does not fit tightly the cream is constantly oozing out. The actual loss of cream is of great importance but in addition there is a deterioration in the quality of the cream as a result of the development of the causative organisms called yeast. Yeasty cream cannot be made into the best quality of butter as the characteristic odor and flavor are carried over to the finished product, butter. The development of lactic acid has no restraining influence and it does not act as an inhibitory agent to yeast growth as in the case of some of the other cream fermentations.

From experimental results it has been shown that yeasts are common in nearly all cream the country over, and seems probable that whether a sample of cream becomes yeasty is largely determined by the conditions under which the cream is held or kept.

The yeasts that are usually responsible for yeasty cream grow at fairly high temperatures, 86 degrees being the most desirable, and as a result trouble is generally only experienced during the warm weather, and not often during the cold seasons. Important factors for the production of yeasty cream besides warm weather conditions are the thickness of viscosity of the cream. If the thickness of the cream is sufficient to prevent the gases from being given off as formed, the foamy condition and odor becomes more apparent due to the retention of the gas.

As yeasts are found in nearly all milk and cream produced under ordinary conditions, the logical means to surpass or prevent the growth of yeasts is by the use of undesirable temperatures. The undesirable temperatures that can be best used by the shipper is one which is sufficiently low to retard yeast growth. The temperature being 60 degrees or below.

A temperature of 60 degrees can

PEST NOT COMING TOWARDS INDIANA

Corn Borer Not Likely to Spread Into This State on Account of Quarantine Service

OHIO INFESTED WITH PEST

All Infestations in That State Has
Been Spreading North and East
Due to Winds

The European Corn Borer, a serious corn pest became established in four separate areas in the United States and Canada at approximately the same time and presumably following a broom corn crop failure in the States which necessitated the importation of quantities of broom corn from Europe. These areas are in eastern Massachusetts, eastern New York, western New York, and Ontario, Canada. Natural spread has occurred resulting in spread from Ontario to Northern Ohio. The infestations farther east are of less immediate importance to the corn growers of Indiana except as infested material from those sections may be shipped into the state but this method of introduction is not likely at the present time with the excellent quarantine service furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Indiana is interested in the thorough-going quarantines now enforced by the Federal Department and is especially interested in the northern Ohio infestation which is now within 60 miles of Indiana," says Prof. J. J. Davis, head of the Department of Entomology of Purdue University.

"The infestation in Ohio was first discovered in 1921," says Prof. Davis, "and by the fall of that year was found about 60 miles east of the Indiana line. Fortunately it did not spread any farther west last year, this apparently due to the south and southwestern winds which are responsible for the natural spread, in a northerly and northeasterly direction. All of the infestations have been spreading north and east which is a decided advantage to Indiana."

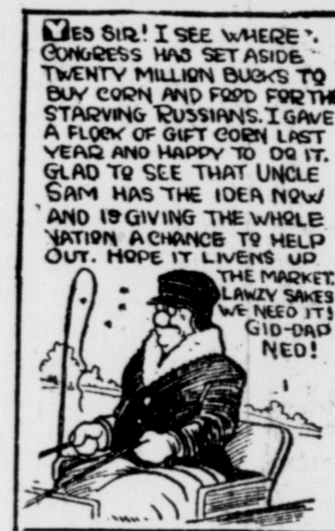

Regardless of the natural spread which seems to be away from Indiana and not towards it, the farmers of our state should be on the lookout for this pest and report any suspicious insects to the Department of Entomology, Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station, Lafayette, Indiana, for identification. The borer infests all parts of the corn plant, burrowing in the tassel, stalk, shank of ear, corn cob and the grain itself. The first injury which is likely to be observed before the insect becomes excessively abundant is the falling over and breaking off of the tassels. Such injury should immediately be sent to the Purdue Station for positive identification.

JOIN WITH FARMERS TO PRODUCE BETTER CORN

Realizing that corn is the principal producing crop of Hancock County farmers, and that the type and quality is not up to the desired standard. The County Farm Bureau in co-operation with the Kiwanis club of Greenfield and the local Corn Growers' Association, agreed to provide one peck of good certified seed corn to as many boys who would agree to take the same and grow it under the following conditions: To plant by itself ad keep time and labor record; to select ten ears from the plot for Show; to check up on yield basis; and to return an equivalent amount of good corn in return for that given him. It is planned to hold seed selection demonstrations with the boys, as well as to hold a Corn Show. Premiums will be awarded both on show, yield and record books. The rules also specify that the seed corn which is returned by the club members is to be sold at auction to the farmers of the county, thus tending to spread the good seed over wider territories. The work is under the direction of County Agent M. E. Cromer and the vocational teachers.

"Pens without males produce from 3 to 5 percent more eggs than pens with males, due to the fact that males annoy the females," says The Farm Journal. "Sell all surplus males after the breeding season."

HEZ BARKER SAYS

HAS TON LITTER IN SIX MONTHS

Ohio Farmer Makes Record With Winter Fed Ton of Pork From
One Sow in Short Time

ANOTHER GOOD SHOWING

Litter of Nine Pigs Weighed 2,035
Pounds And Another Litter is Threatening to Repeat

A winter fed ton of pork from one sow in six months, and another litter threatening to make a ton within a year is the unequal record made by H. M. Baumgardner of Fairfield County, Ohio.

A litter of nine pigs farrowed August 17, 1922, was marketed February 17, 1923, weighing 2,035 pounds, averaging 226 pounds.

In addition to good care and feeding the main factor which contributed to this accomplishment was the use of a "better size" of which farm advisers and experiment stations talk so much. He used a pure bred, registered Poland China boar of approved modern type—not extreme weighing around 600 pounds. The boar is rugged but of easy feeding type.

The dam was a grade Duroc Jersey sow, weighing 350 pounds. This was her first litter.

During the gestation period she was fed a small amount of corn and tankage and had the run of a blue grass clover pasture. She was continued on pasture during the suckling period, and after two weeks was allowed all the corn she would eat, with a pound each of bran and middlings and a quarter of a pound of tankage daily.

The pigs were weaned at ten weeks, and for one month were given all the skim milk they would consume. Corn, tankage and a commercial mineral mixture thereafter made the ration until maturity.

"I found they would eat more corn by feeding both ear and shelled corn," says Mr. Baumgardner. "They would frequently squeal at the crib for corn when the self feeder was full and vice versa," says he. An account of weight and feed was kept only during the past thirty days, but the figures for this period indicate a good profit.

On January 17 the litter weighed 1,497 pounds, and thirty days later when marketed 2,035, making a gain for the period of 538 pounds.

The gain per pig per day for the last month was two pounds, and 1.22 pounds per pig per day for the six months.

During the last thirty days they consumed 10.5 bushels of shelled corn and 24.14 bushels of ear corn and 28.5 pounds of tankage. Figuring the corn at 70c per bushel and the tankage at $4.00 per cwt., the cost and profit for the 538 pounds of gain were as follows: The market price was $8.40.

538 lbs. @ $8.40 cwt. ----- $45.19
34.64 bu. corn @ .70 ----- $24.25
28.5 lbs tankage @ .40 1.14 ----- $25.39

Profit ----- $19.80
This is a profit of $3.68 per cwt. or a total profit on the litter of $74.99, or 43 percent on the cost of production.

If the cost of tankage for the thirty days is deducted from the receipts for the gain made it will be seen that $44.05 were received for 34.64 bushels of corn or $1.27 per bushel.

The business man talks of "volume," "low cost" and "turn over." Continued on Page Two

CORN, HOG, GRAIN TO BE DISCUSSED

Forecast Of The Situation Will Be Made By Group Of Agricultural
Economists, July 11, 12

CALLED AT WASHINGTON

Delegates Will Have Pig Count And Crop Estimates Available For
Their Discussion

A forecast of the corn-hog situation and of the wheat situation is to be made by a group of agricultural economists and statisticians, called into conference by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The conference has been called at Washington, D. C., July 11 and 12 when a forecast and resume of the prospective domestic and foreign demand for corn and hogs, and wheat will be prepared.

The conferees will have available the results of the Nation-wide pig count just completed by the Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Post Office Department, giving estimates of the spring crop and intentions of farmers to breed for fall litters. There will also be available the Government crop estimate of corn acreage and production to be released July 9. With these sets of facts as a basis for forecasts the Committee is expected to announce information which will be helpful to farmers in making their program for next fall and winter.

On wheat the Government crop report of July 9 giving the condition of spring and winter wheat and a forecast of total production will be available to the conferees. This information considered together with the latest available figures on wheat movement and supply in the United States and abroad will enable the Committee to prepare a rather comprehensive report on the outlook of the world wheat situation. Cotton will not be considered at this conference.

The conference will also prepare a report on probable demand at home and abroad during the next six or nine months.

THIRD PIG COUNT COVERS ALL COUNTRY

Semi-Annual Estimate on Hog Census
is Now Being Completed by
U. S. Agricultural Department

QUESTIONNAIRES SENT OUT

Tabulation of returns covering the third semi-annual pig estimate and forecast by the United States Department of Agriculture is now nearing completion and the results will be made public the end of this month, the department announces. The final report will give the number of spring pigs produced this year as compared with last spring, and include a forecast of breeding operations during the coming fall as compared with last fall. An effort will be made to give the results in actual figures as well as on a percentage basis.

More than 200,000 questionnaires have been returned to the department out of a total of 450,000 distributed by rural mail carriers in all parts of the country. Approximately 100,000 returns have already been tabulated. Tabulation of 150,000 returns will be given better than a 5 percent sample of conditions in the leading hog producing States, the department says. Approximately 10,000 reports have been received from each of the principal corn belt States.

The questionnaires also requested reports on the number of acres in corn, which information is to be used in connection with the department's crop estimate of corn acreage and forecast of corn production to be released July 9th.

AGRICULTURE IN H. S.

Bluffton, June 28—Upon request of the farming element of the county, the city officials of Bluffton have decided to introduce a course in vocational agriculture in the high school next year. The course will be open to all boys in the high school and will be a complete study of the fundamentals of agriculture.

CATTLE TOPPED MARKET

Ed Johnson Sold 62 Head Hereford
Cattle on Indianapolis Market

Ed Johnson of Rushville reports that his 62 head of Hereford cattle shipped to Indianapolis a few days ago, topped the market for the season.

Mr. Johnson purchased these steers last November when they averaged 315 pounds. He put them on light feed, December first, of Purina Steer Fatera and ground corn and by January 15, they were on full feed of three pounds of Purina Steer Fatera and ground corn with roughage.

The cattle made remarkable gains while on this feed; in fact averaged close to three pounds per day since January 15.

Mr. Johnson did not weigh the cattle during the feeding period but was well satisfied with the results as they averaged 718 pounds in Indianapolis. The cattle attracted favorable attention while on sale and were eagerly sought by all buyers at the yard.

Mr. Johnson has consistently topped the market with his cattle and buyers have come to realize his cattle are always in prime condition.

Warren Co. Men to Study The Handling of Soybeans.

At a recent meeting of the Warren County Threshermen's Association, plans were made to conduct a tour to Vermilion County, Ill., where a large acreage is devoted to soybean production. The purpose of the tour will be to get more farmers acquainted with the handling and harvesting of the crop. Some farmers are hesitating to grow beans because they are not familiar with the methods of harvesting and threshing the beans and some of the threshermen are also hesitating to get proper equipment to do the threshing. It was thought that information on this phase of the work would encourage more farmers to raise beans for a grain or cash crop. On this tour, it will be especially noted how threshing machines should be equipped and adjusted to thresh the beans without cracking them and at the same time avoiding clogging up the machine with soybean straw. County Agent H. H. Madaus is sponsoring the plans.

TELLS HOW ANTS MAY BE KILLED

County Agent Has Many Calls For
Methods of Getting Rid of Pests
That Infest Houses

MANY SIMPLE REMEDIES

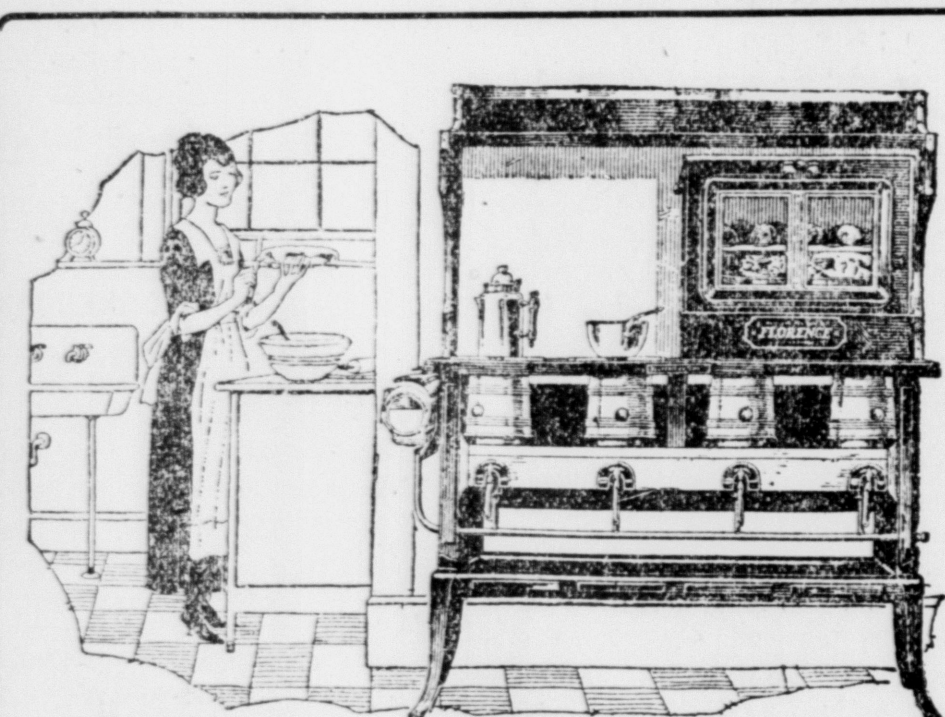

Tartar Emetic And Sodium Arsenate
Are Commonly Used As Bait
To Destroy The Nest

The county agent has received a number of requests for methods of controlling ants in houses and his recommendation for the control of the pests are as follows:

Where ants occur in lawns or where the nests can be located it is possible to eradicate the colony by injecting carbon bisulphid into the soil. Once the nest is located, a hole is punched into the soil so that it will reach the main portion of the nest, four or six inches below the surface, and into this hole a tablespoonful of the liquid bisulphid is poured. For this purpose a funnel is convenient. Afterwards the hole is plugged with soil to prevent unnecessary escape of fumes. If the nest is large several injections should be made around the main entrance to the colony. Carbon bisulphid can be obtained at most drug stores and care should be exercised not to have fire of any kind about, while making the application.

One of the simplest controls is one part of sugar and ten parts of tartar emetic dissolved in a pint of water. This is used in saucers and it is best to have a piece of sponge in the liquid to enable the ants to get to the poison solution to better advantage. Or, better, small pieces of sponge or excelsior soaked in the syrup may be placed in tin boxes, the lids of which have been punched with several holes and several of these boxes set in the house where ants are numerous. It may be necessary to renew the bait from time to time until the ants disappear and it is often two to three weeks after the bait is put out before the results are noticeably apparent. Small pieces of bacon rind, or chipped beef, or grease into which a small amount of tartar emetic has been worked is

HARD FACTS ABOUT SOFT MONEY

When a farmer takes his product to market and sells it for say, a dollar a bushel, he is dependent upon the honesty of two measures—the dollar and the bushel.

The other day a crossroads storekeeper got sent to jail for manipulating a trick bushel basket with a false bottom that would slide up and down in a way that was grand, gloomy and mysterious. When using it to measure, stuff he bought from a farmer, he'd secretly shove the bottom down until it held at least a bushel and a quarter, but he would only credit him with a bushel. The buying power of the farmers' product was thereby depreciated by about twenty per cent.

Finally the farmers thereabouts got wise to the fact that the only way they could get what was coming to them was to enforce a reliable standard of measurement. So they put a good stiff jail penalty on using a fake measure, laid for that storekeeper with the trick basket and sent him to prison.

Politicians in Europe have been manipulating the other measure—the money measure—in much the same way. Some of them in America want to tamper likewise with the dollar. Here is about the way it would work out. Suppose, when the farmer brought his product to market, the basket measure was honest enough and he got a dollar bill for each bushel. He'd take his dollars home and save them. Perhaps he planned to buy some land next his own for a thousand dollars, and figured that in a year or so he could make it.

But meanwhile the politicians start to manipulate the base of the currency. They would change it from the gold standard to a fiat money plan from a gold guarantee to the mere say-so of the government that a piece of paper was worth a dollar.

The farmer wouldn't be watching the money-politicians. He would be too busy raising things. At the end of the year he has his thousand dollars. He takes them to the landowner and says, "I'll buy your land now—here's a thousand dollars."

But the land owner would say, "That is paper money—my land is worth one thousand dollars gold—the government has printed so much paper-money folks haven't much confidence in it. But I am willing to take a chance if you will give me a dollar and a quarter in paper money for each gold dollar's value of my land—in other words, I'll give you my land for 1,250 dollars paper."

Soft money would be only another way for the money-politicians to hand the farmer the same dirty deal as the basket manipulator. In the first case the farmer unknowingly gave a bushel and a quarter of his product, and in the second case he would have to give a dollar and a quarter of his money for a dollar's value in return.

In Germany they have carried the manipulation of the mark so far—well, it seems hardly believable, but if they did the same thing to the dollar, it would take over ten million in paper money to buy that land. The primary producer can raise his prices, but not fast enough to equalize this drop in the gold value of unsound money. That is where the catch comes in.

In the Geography class the children had been studying the zones. "And now," said the teacher, "in what zone is the highest grade of intellect and intelligence developed?" "In the parcel post zone," shouted Tommy, with great assurance. The Farm Journal, July 1923.

Why Group Fights Group

America is suffering from a lack of economic understanding. It is, therefore, that we find group arrayed against group—that we find the grower at variance with the producer, the producer with the consumer and both with the carrier. It is because of a lack of economic understanding that we find capital and labor frequently striving against each other. Yet each element is vitally interested in each other for the final success of the entire endeavor—in the farmer growing a prime crop and getting a fair return; in the canner packing a palatable crop and getting a fair return; in the carrier transporting without damage or deterioration and getting a fair return; in the wholesaler making a wide distribution and getting a fair return; in the retailer satisfying his customer and getting a fair return; in labor aiding each of the processes and getting a fair return; in capital supplying the money and credit to make each process possible and getting a fair return, and in the consumer receiving a pure, nourishing, dependable, wholesome health giving article at a fair price. There is this community of interest in the production and consumption of human requirements that should prohibit strife among the producing and consuming elements.—J. H. Pfeiffer, President American Bankers Association.

The farmer under present conditions must do the same. Mr. Baumbgardner gets volume when he can market two tons of pork from one sow in a year. He has low cost when he can make a profit of 43 percent on relatively high priced feed, and two pay checks annually is some turnover for a farmer.

IMMATURE LAMBS INJURES MARKET

Shippers Are Advised To Keep Young And Immature Lambs At Home For Further Growth

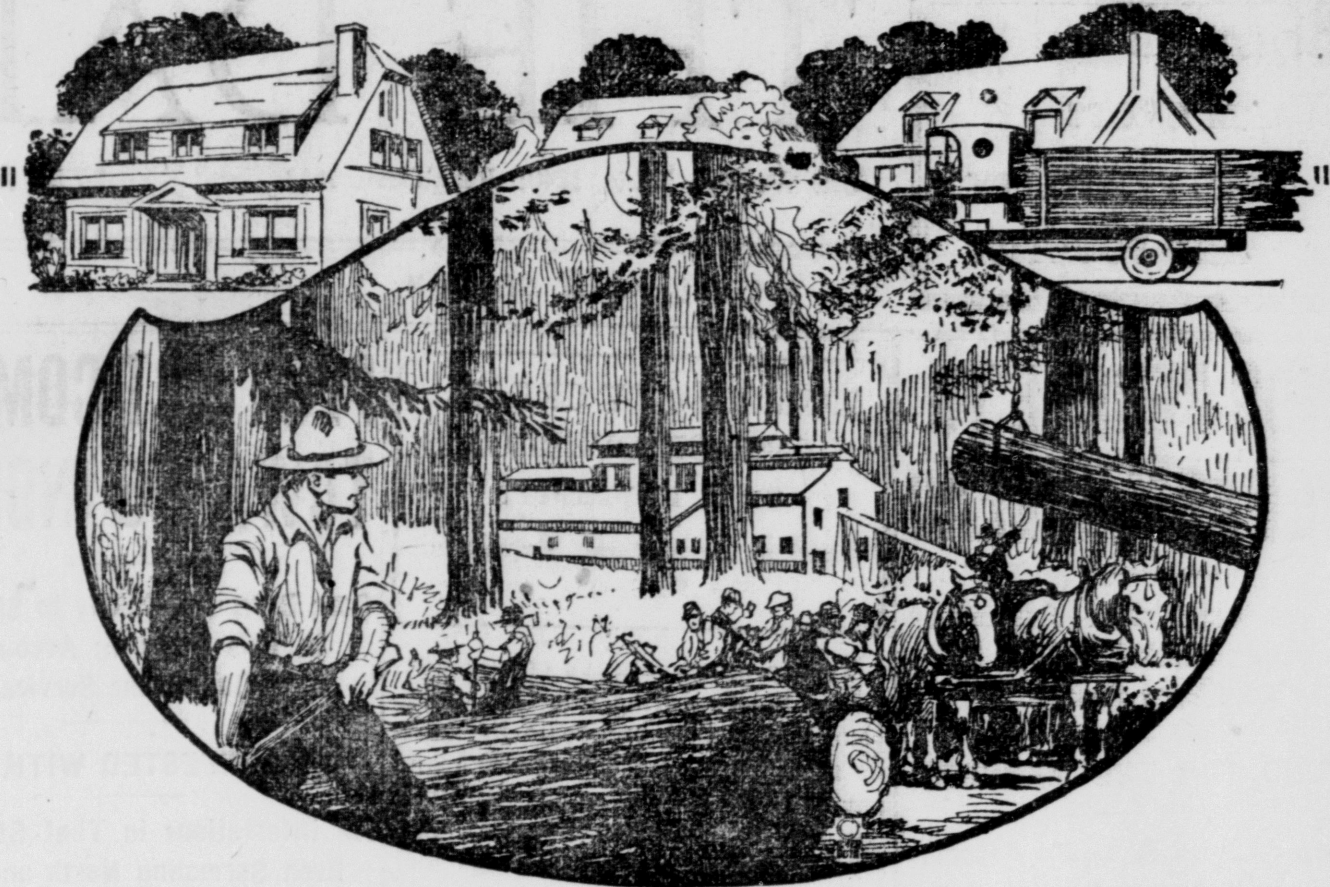

OVERCROWDS THE MARKET

Low Grade Stock On Market Only Results In Price Decline, Livestock Warning Says

"Unless young and immature lambs are kept at home for further development and finishing there is serious danger of glutting the market with a low-grade product which can only result in severe price declines," is the warning sounded to shippers by the Committee of Trade Interests composed of livestock commission men, slaughters, retailers, railroads, stock-yard companies at Jersey City and New York, Eastern lamb producers, and the United States Department of Agriculture, appointed last summer to bring about stabilization of the Jersey City lamb market.

The Committee states that receipts have been light since the market movement of Eastern lambs began in May and that there is a noticeable tendency on the part of shippers to market a large percentage of young and immature lambs because of the rather high prices which such lambs have brought. These prices have influenced country shippers to pick lower down in their flocks than usual, thereby increasing the percentage of light weight, immature lambs in the market receipts, it is said.

Recent arrivals at Jersey City include from 25 to 35 per cent of immature lambs, the report shows. Despite a rather strong demand receipts from western markets have been unusually light and prices have shown corresponding strength. But if shippers continue to send immature and otherwise inferior lambs to market during the period when receipts are heavy, sharp declines will be inevitable, the committee says.

Information received by the department of Agriculture indicates a heavy prospective movement of lambs from eastern and southern territory to market during the latter part of June and in July. This is the period when price fluctuations are usually most severe, the department says, due more to the quality of the receipts than to the volume, inasmuch as Jersey City and New York usually can absorb all the good lambs offered. Heavy receipts generally include a large percentage of inferior grades comprising "culls," light weight and "bucky" lambs which cannot be moved except at a sacrifice, and this in turn affects the market for the better grades, it is pointed out.

Arsenical baits are commonly used for the control of certain species of ants. The least complicated bait is prepared by dissolving two pounds of sugar in a pint of water. In another container, dissolve 1/10 ounce of sodium arsenite in a small quantity of water. Pour one into the other and use as the tartar emetic solution. Different kinds of ants are attracted differently and some will be attracted to meats or grease in preference to sweets. Thus, we have had good results by substituting chipped beef steeped in water, or grease, instead of using sugar.

There are also a number of repellants of value. One which can be used to advantage is sassafras oil. Tartar emetic and sodium arsenite suggested above are poisonous, and should be kept out of reach of children and household pets.

MORTGAGED

(Farm Life)

It used to be considered a misfortune, if not a disgrace, to be mortgaged. Now, it is quite the common and proper thing. From figures just made public by the census officials and the Department of Agriculture we learn that the farm mortgages totaled $7,857,700,000 on January 1, 1920. About $1,200 to the farm, supposing they are all mortgaged, or twice that much if only half the farms have "plasters" on them. And that was three years ago. No doubt the mortgage debt has increased in the meantime. Heaven only knows what it will be when the next census figures are compiled, for right now, on account of the activity of the point stock land banks and the Federal Farm Land banks, and the private bankers, mortgages are being written at an unprecedented rate. The minimum government loan has been raised from $10,000 to $25,000, and it was never so easy to borrow money. Is this frightful? Perhaps it only means that farming as a great industry is following the other great industries into the new realms of credit. The farm lands are worth perhaps nine or ten times the amount of the mortgages, and this constitutes a good safe risk, surely. If the railroads, or mines, or public utilities were only bonded and mortgaged to one-tenth their value they would be regarded as remarkably solvent. Why should we be staggered at the fact that agriculture has a permanent debt running up into the billions? It is merely in keeping with general business methods of the time and doesn't indicate anything tragic or disastrous.

nearly always be obtained by the use of well water, spring water or ice water. Well water usually has a temperature of about 55 degrees F. while spring water is generally a little cooler. The temperature of 60 degrees F. does not entirely inhibit yeast growth but slows up the rate growth very considerably and by marketing frequently, every three or four days, the development will not be sufficient to cause loss of cream due to yeasts. In overcoming yeasty cream there are two very important factors to be considered. First, to keep the temperature of the cream always at 60 degrees F. or below, the lower the temperature the better. Second, to market the cream frequently, holding it not exceeding four days.

BETTER FLOUR DUE TO WHEAT

TOO MUCH OF A MIXTURE

Purdue Authority Says There is A Scarcity Of Good, Pure Bred, Clean Seed Wheat

Lafayette, Ind., July 3.—Before better flour can be produced from Indiana wheat we must have a wheat that is of superior quality. We must get rid of a lot of miscellaneous varieties, and wheat within a variety that has deteriorated due to mixture, being grown on poor ground and disease, said W. A. Osterlander of the agricultural Extension staff of Purdue University in a radio talk broadcasted from the Purdue Station WBAA, recently.

Because of the scarcity of good bred clean seed wheat, the Indiana Corn Growers' Association took up the work of inspecting wheat fields and certifying them if they were of standard varieties and superior quality and purity. This inspection takes place just before the wheat is cut, and it must be 99.5 per cent pure, as to variety must contain less than one-half of one per cent of loose smut, no stinking smut, and must contain no rye, cheat or cockle. If these latter are present they must be cut out or pulled before the inspection.

The six or seven recognized superior varieties for the state are Michikoff, a smooth wheat of superior milling and yielding quality developed by Purdue Experiment workers; Michigan Amber, a smooth wheat, one of our standard for Indiana; Poole and Fultz, two smooth wheats grown extensively in southern Indiana but of rather soft quality; Turkey Red, a bearded variety grown on the black land very successfully; Rudy, a bearded variety of high yielding and very good milling quality and probably one of our best all-around bearded wheats for the state; Red Rock, grown in northern and southern Indiana to a considerable extent, but not very winter hardy in the central section. Then there are a few other varieties like the Red Chaff or Goens grown in central Indiana; Malakoff, which resembles Turkey Red very much, and the Gladden coming to us from Ohio. These are reasonably good wheats and can be grown successfully in Indiana.

The fee for this inspection for certification is $8 for 20 acres or less and 25 cents for each additional acre. The certified seed sells for from 50 to 75 cents per bushel above market price. Men are reporting larger yields of better quality wheat from certified seed, and each year the supply of certified grain is sold out before the demand is over.

Pure wheat, however, will not solve the problem. It must be grown on ground that is well supplied with plant food, either from commercial fertilizer, manure and in a good legume rotation.

This certification also takes in rye, oats, soybeans and corn.

SOYBEAN CLUB FORMED IN RANDOLPH COUNTY

The farmers of Randolph County have found the real value of growing soy beans for feed and as a soil crop worthy a place in their crop rotation. The acreage in 1922 was estimated at 3500 acres for hay, seed, hogging off and ensilage. This year, the acreage is estimated at 12,000 acres for all purposes, says county agent R. A. Fields. Owing to the interest the farmers are showing in this crop, one of the local banks is financing a Five Acre Soybean Club. There are 75 farmers entered in this club, the purpose of which is to encourage the growing of the soybean as a legume, for its all around qualities.

Farm Bureau Has Luncheons

The Farm Bureau of Allen County has inaugurated the idea of the monthly luncheons at which gathering matters of general interest to Farm Bureau folks will be discussed. These meetings will be business and entertainment combined. The Farm Women will have an important place on the next program, County Agent W. H. Showalter reports.

OVER 40 WORMS PREY ON FOWLS

Poultry Subject To a Variety of Parasitic Pests, Remedies for Which Are Very Simple.

Poultry is subject to worms that infest the throat, windpipe, intestines and esophagus. There are more than forty kinds of parasitic worms that may infest fowls of all kinds.

Of all the worms attacking poultry however, only the tapeworm is serious enough to need much consideration. In localities where many hogs and sheep are kept, poultry and water fowls seem to be more or less subject to tapeworms and other worms in the intestines.

Intestinal worms usually give few symptoms of their presence. The chief cause is usually filth. Fowls affected with intestinal worms become dull and listless and stand about as if troubled with malaria. A laxative of Epsom salts at the rate of one-third teaspoonful for each fowl fed in a mash will be beneficial in such cases. In addition to freeing the intestines of worms, it will also be beneficial to the digestion.

Where tapeworms exist they are destructive to poultry, but on account of their rare appearance in poultry they are not usually considered a serious pest. Where they are prevalent, sections of the worms will be found in the excrement.

A number of forms of treatment are suggested for tapeworms or other parasitic worms in poultry. Whatever form is used, it can be most effectively applied in a mash mixed with hot milk and fed while warm.

Some poultrymen find a teaspoonful of the powdered bark of pomegranate root for each 50 fowls added to such a mash very effective.

A tablespoonful of powdered pumpkin seeds may be fed in the same manner.

Oil of turpentine, better known as spirits of turpentine, is always an effective remedy against worms of all kinds. One teaspoonful of spirits of turpentine mixed with one ounce of olive oil will be sufficient for mixing in a mash for 20 fowls.

For destroying worms of all kinds two grains of santonine may be mixed with a teaspoonful of olive oil and given to the ailing birds.

Worm medicines recommended for children will usually act equally well with poultry.

Some poultrymen also give their fowls the tobacco treatment for worms. For each hundred fowls a pound of finely ground tobacco stems should be steeped for two hours in enough water to cover them. The bird should be fed lightly the day before the treatment and on the day of treatment no feed should be given until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At this time the extract of the tobacco stems and the stems themselves should be mixed with one-half of the usual quantity of dry mash and given to the fowl. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the remainder of the mash should be mixed with water to which has been added enough Epsom salts to make one-third teaspoonful for each fowl. If necessary, this dose can be repeated in another week. This is usually considered rather harsh treatment and may result in a lower egg production for a short time.

JOHNSON CO. PIG CLUB MEMBERS EXPAND WORK

The goal for Pig Club work in Johnson County was not placed on the number of entries into the club, but rather the type of boy or girl entering the club, since in order to make this work successful, members must be good boosters as well as co-operators. The 31 members of the pig club are divided into four community groups with one county leader. There will be monthly meetings of the club and each member will be visited each month by the County Agent or some other interested person. The club members were urged not to feed one pig, but rather two or more. By using this method of feeding, the boy will be able to note the difference between the two pigs as to gain, development of body, etc. It will also give a better chance to make a selection for the show ring in the fall. All but two boys are feeding two or more pigs. To make a display of the pig club work, each boy is to exhibit one of his pigs at the County Fair, with a record of the ration fed, gain made and age of each pig printed on a placard and put up on each pen. A great deal of emphasis is given on the keeping of the club record book as outlined by Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department.

Move On! Move On!!

As a rule July is one of the duller months of the year, but we do not propose to let such conditions exist here. We are custodians of our own stocks; we are going to compel business to MOVE ON—Stagnation is the death of trade—NO INERT, TORPID, LAZY STOCK HERE. When merchandising is inactive, when our sales do not satisfy us, when the dull season is upon us, then is when we want action, right then and there is when we cut prices and cut with vim and vigor.

We Have Been Doing Police Duty in Every Department

What is the result? What happens to seasonable, desirable, fashionable goods when they are priced far below regular? They MOVE ON and they move at a pretty lively gait here.

TWO MEN WOUNDED BY SHOTS FROM AMBUSH AT KLAN MEETING

Hit By Stray Bullets

SHOTS AIMED AT SPEAKER

Spent Bullet Struck Woods In Forehead As He Sat On Hillside With Child In His Lap

Him In Mouth And Shatters Metal
Plate Of False Teeth

Two men were painfully injured and the lives of hundreds of men, women and children were endangered Monday night about 9:30 o'clock when shots were fired from ambush into a massed meeting of a Ku Klux Klan on the old Rush county fair grounds, just east of the city.

The men injured were Fred Woods a barber of this city, who resides at 324 West Fifth street, and Revin (Reece) Roberts, a farmer, who resides a mile north of Moscow in Orange township.

Woods was shot with a 45-calibre, steel-jacket bullet, probably from a revolver or army rifle. The bullet hit him a glancing blow, which saved his life. It imbedded itself into the flesh on his forehead, and was removed by physicians soon afterwards.

The bullet gave the appearance of having struck a tree or some other object, and was badly mangled on the point. Mr. Woods was sitting on a hillside listening to the opening remarks of the speaker, and his son Robert was sitting in his lap.

Mr. Roberts in some manner had his hand near his face, and the bullet of a similar type, pierced his hand, and went through, striking the upper lip on his face, and shattered the metal plate of his false teeth, which detracted the bullet, and he spit it out.

The meeting of the Klansmen was supposed to have been a dual initiation, with men and women being candidates. The speaker was said to have been the Rev. Mr. Cain of Mooresville, Ind. The meeting had just got under way, and the introductory song had been sung.

A crowd estimated at two thousand had gathered around the speaker.

Build Memorial To Gen. P. A.

SEVERAL CONTRACTS ARE LET

The county commissioners Monday granted a petition for permission to erect a monument or memorial in honor of General Pleasant A. Hackleman, of this county, the only Indiana general killed during the civil war, on the northwest corner of the court house yard. The petition was signed by Frank G. Hackleman, Earl H. Payne and A. L. Gary.

The terms of the will of Ira W. Ayres, probated on September 17, 1915, provided funds for the erection of such a monument or memorial and the petitioners merely went through the formality of asking the commissioners for permission to erect it on the court house lawn.

The commissioners awarded the contract for the Laverne Dunn macadam road in Richland township to Avery and Weintraut of Walhroun, Ind., the only bidders, for $8,750.

Contracts for coal for the court house and jail were awarded to William Trennepohl and John P. Frazee and Son, the former for two cars of Island Creek at $7.50 a ton and the latter for one car of Campbell's Creek at the same figure.

Poor infirmity supply contracts were let as follows: Ed Haywood, meat; the Manzy Co., dry goods; J. L. Cowing, Son and Co., clothing and men's shoes; Varley and Varley groceries.

New York, July 3.—Lieut. Russel M. Maughan, who will attempt to fly from New York to San Francisco in seventeen hours, will make his start Friday, he announced today. He had planned to start tomorrow.

Four mechanical experts, trained to the minute in the art of refueling and hurriedly making some mechanical repairs in the machinery, have gone ahead, one dropping off at each of the four fields, at which the dawn-to-dusk tourist expects to halt en-route.

The four stops are Dayton, Ohio, St. Joseph, Mo., Cheyenne Wyo., and Salt Lake, Utah.

President Harding Says New Assurance Of America's Greatness
Is Found In Their Lives

IN A REMINISCENT MOOD

Puts Aside All Discussion Of Great
And Troublesome Issues To Talk
Of Great Men

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With President Harding, Menasha, Ore., July 3.—New assurances of American greatness lie in the recollection of the heroism and resolution of the pioneers who settled the great Northwest. President Harding said today in a speech here at the Oregon trail celebration.

The president in reminiscent mood recalled the glamorous days of the pioneer and for one day put aside all discussion of great and troublesome issues to talk of great men and great days long gone.

He took as his theme the work of Marcus Whitman, pioneer whose efforts saved Oregon to the United States at a time when it appeared Great Britain was certain to get it. He told how Secretary of State Daniel Webster and other great men of the time, supported by public opinion, held the Oregon country practically worthless.

He related how Whitman made a personal appeal to President Tyler in Washington after a perilous trip across the continent and how they granted his plea that no great action be taken until Whitman had been given time to test as a sturdy band of colonists into Oregon. The settling of the country by these men and women saved the Oregon country to the United States.

Fight Is On Again

The Dempsey-Gibbons heavy-weight championship prize fight, which was called off at Shelby, Mont., last night, will be fought. Promoters came to agreement with Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, who accepted the $200,000 already raised as a guarantee, early today, and will take a chance on getting the other $100,000 from the gate receipts.

Gibbons will not make a dime out of the fight, a dispatch from Shelby this afternoon said.

Further news of the proposed bout will be found on page five.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Naval Reserve Summer Training
Banks of White River

WILL BE OPENED ON JULY 9

Purpose of Project is to Afford
Profitable Outing

An opportunity for Rush county boys between the ages of 15 and twenty years to attend a U. S. naval summer training camp was disclosed today with the announcement received here that such a camp was being located in Riverside park, Indianapolis, on a broad, green lawn of twenty acres and along the east bank of White river.

The camp will open July 9 and continue until about October 1 and applications are now being received, both from individual boys, and will pay their own expenses, and from organizations sending boys. All applications and requests concerning the camp should be addressed to Commandant U. S. Naval Summer Training Camp, 17 East North street Indianapolis. Telephone communication may be established by calling Riley 1612. The camp will have a capacity of 250.

"The camp with its wholesome open air exercise, its beautiful location on White river and its touch of the maritime, will make a stronger appeal to a boy's imagination and interest than anything that could be devised for an organized outing," says a statement by Lieut. F. F. Knachel, commanding the U. S. naval summer training camp. "The time will be really worth while, and with a liberal gain in mind, muscle, tan and health."

"The purpose of the naval camp is, in brief, according to the announcement received here, 'to afford an attractive and at the same time, a really profitable outing for boys. The naval course is primarily of value in that it has every requisite of a successful outing, it makes a strong appeal to a boy's natural interests, teaches him to be at home on the water, and affords him an unequalled source of wholesome refreshment and physical benefit. Valuable lessons will be imparted even in such short time, in precision, self-control, obedience and in good carriage and alert and self-confident

'Sunshine' Hughes, One of Chicago's Well Known Pastors, Has Knocked About The World a Bit and Has a Message for a Rush County
Audience.

Down Chicago way they often speak of him affectionately as "Sunshine Hughes." He is one of Chicago's well known pastors, a man of broad culture and extensive travel, whose radiant personality has won for him a host of admirers.

Richard D. Hughes has knocked about the world during the past ten years—whenever his church board could spare him. He has tramped from one end of Europe to the other has uncovered the battlefields of the war zone. He has ambled about in Africa, has studied the Bedouin Arab, has visited Italy and spent much time in England. He has studied life and institutions in all these places and has a wonderful fund of interesting gossip gathered from far-away corners of the globe.

But what is more important, Dr. Hughes is a remarkable speaker. He has a cultivated style, which is eloquent and his voice possesses a rich resonant quality that carries his message to the hearts of his hearers with a cadence of music. He is a man of big ideas and big ideals, and there is a tremendous enthusiasm prevalent in his lectures, whether they be travel talks or discussions of world problems of today.

His subject for Sunday afternoon, August 12 is "As We Saw Europe and as Europe Saw Us."

WILL BE INVITED TO BOLT

Sen. LaFollette Will be Asked to
Head Third Party Movement

Chicago, Ill., July 3.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin, probably will be asked to bolt the republican party and become the presidential candidate of the third party being organized here today.

Wisconsin delegates went into the opening session of the farmer-labor and political minority coalition conference with resolutions drawn extending best wishes to LaFollette and asking the conference to invite him to join a third party project. Delegates from Iowa backed the Wisconsin people.

LaFollette was tendered the nomination of the farmer-labor party last election but rejected it.

DESPERADO IN GUN BATTLE

Murder, Picked up at Little Falls

Little Falls, Minn., July 3.—The trail of Edmund Rust, desperado and fugitive, was picked up here today when he fought a gun duel with Hubert Frischinger, railroad special agent, on top of a Great Northern freight train.

Rust has been unsuccessfully sought by dozens of posses in the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Minnesota since Sunday night when he shot Sheriff R. D. Fuller, Aberdeen, S. D., sheriff to death and leaped from a passenger train near Moorhead.

After exchanging several shots with Frischinger, Rust leaped from the top of the freight train, stole an automobile from a private garage nearby and again escaped.

Neither Rust or Frischinger was wounded in the gun fight.

Machine Carrying Party Enroute to Morristown Strikes Fresh Gravel
and Upsets

GIRL IS SERIOUSLY HURT

Four persons were injured and an automobile was badly damaged in an auto accident which occurred Sunday morning about 11 miles east of Gwynneville. The car, in which seven persons were riding, struck fresh gravel on the Brookville road and was overturned against a telephone pole which was broken in two places by the force of the collision. Miss Mable Wilson, of Covington, Ky., is probably the most seriously injured and physicians today were unable to determine the extent of her injuries.

The occupants of the machine, which is owned by Walter Hawk, of Ludlow, Ky., were en route to Morristown, to visit J. W. Wilson, of that place. Mr. Wilson's brother, Clarence, and family, Mr. Hawk, Miss Stiffel, and Miss Mable Wilson were riding in the machine.

Witnesses say that the car was being driven at a rapid rate of speed when it struck the gravel, and that it turned over one and one-half times. In the second turn, it struck the pole and was practically demolished.

Miss Mable Wilson, who was badly injured, was taken to the home of John Sullivan, near Gwynneville, and the rest of the party is at the home of J. W. Wilson, in Morristown.

STEAL $3,000 WORTH OF NEGOTIABLE PAPER

Robbers Make Clean Get-Away After Looting Wabash County
Treasurer's Office

NO EXPLOSIVES ARE USED

(By United Press)

Wabash, Ind., July 3.—Robbers made a clean get-away with $3,000 worth of negotiable securities and bonds from the office of the treasurer of Wabash county, it was revealed today when the vault in the treasurer's office was opened.

The burglars gained entry to the court house by breaking the glass in a side door and turning the inside knob. They worked the combination to the treasurer's vault without the use of explosives. After looting the vault, robbers ransacked the offices of county clerk, auditor and recorder without obtaining any valuables.

It is believed the work was done by experts and that the robbery was committed some time after midnight as one of the county officers was in the building until that hour and heard no unusual noises.

Police are seeking to trail two strangers who were seen hanging around the station here last night in the belief that they had a hand in the robbery.

THREE LAW SUITS BASED ON MISHAP

William Emsweller Is Sued For Combined Damages Of $10,500 As

HAPPENED TWO YEARS AGO

Joy A. Croak, Bertha Matthews And
John A. Segelmier, Owner Of
Machine, Are Plaintiffs

Three law suits growing out of an automobile accident two years ago tomorrow have been filed in the circuit court here, all complaints being for damages, and against William Emsweller, 1030 North Morgan street, this city.

Two complaints demand $5,000 each for personal injuries and the third suit is for $500 damages for the automobile which was alleged to have been demolished.

Joy A. Croak is plaintiff in one suit, in which he alleges that he was a passenger in a machine driven by John A. Segelmier, and that it was struck by the defendant on July 4, 1921, at the intersection of Emerson Avenue and the Brookville road, just east of Indianapolis.

The defendant is alleged to have been driving his machine at 50 miles an hour, and was careless in operating it. The plaintiff's machine was not exceeding ten miles an hour according to the complaint.

The plaintiff alleges that as a result of the accident he suffered cuts, bruises and lacerations about the face and body, that his nervous system was shattered and he received a severe rupture. He alleges that he should have $5,000 which is his demand as judgment.

Bertha Matthews, who says she was also a passenger in the machine alleges that as a result of the collision, she suffered lacerations, bruises and that a cut on her head was of a serious nature and required several stitches.

The wound also is alleged to have caused her permanent disfigurement and her nervous system also was shattered. She demands $5,000 for her alleged injuries.

John A. Segelmier, owner and driver of the machine, alleges that the automobile was a total wreck, and that it was of a value of $500, and that the accident was caused by the reckless and careless driving of the defendant.

A complaint for divorce also was filed in the court, in which Halley Brown is plaintiff and John M. Brown, defendant. The plaintiff resides in Mays and the defendant in Rushville, according to the complaint.

WARNS OF RISKS OF FOURTH EXPLOSIVES

Newman T. Miller, State Fire Marshal, Says Practically Every Form
Of Fireworks Is Dangerous

ALL CONTAIN SOME POISON

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—Practically every form of fireworks contains a dangerous or poisonous substance, Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal, pointed out today in further warning of the risks of Fourth of July explosives. In addition to the laws and city ordinances prohibition fireworks, except under certain conditions, the fire marshal enumerates the dangers of injury, fires, and poisons as reasons for refraining from a fireworks celebration.

Mr. Miller asserted that such fireworks as torpedoes, star mines, one pound skyrockets, roman candles and sons-of-a-gun contain chlorate of potash, a poisonous substance prohibited from sale to children in many states. The barrel snake contains mercuric sulpho-cyanate sufficient to kill 10 adults. Mr. Miller said, and the Indian snakes contain enough of the same substance to kill one adult. In the sons-of-a-gun there is enough yellow phosphorus to kill five adults. This assertion he based on chemical analysis of the fireworks specified made by the University of Wisconsin, at the request of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin.

STARLAND REVIEW

Timely Picture At Princess

Her photograph in fireworks! That's one of the spectacular effects to be seen in "Prodigal Daughters," a Sam Wood production starring Gloria Swanson in the role of "Swiftie" Forbes, a modern girl with a strong will and a determination to live her own life, which will be on view at the Princess Wednesday and Thursday.

In a big Fourth of July celebration at a country home in Long Island where much of the action transpires, a set piece shows a girl outlined in fire and beneath it the name, "Swiftie," will be lined against the night sky. The scenes were made in California on an estate which exactly duplicates Long Island's magnificent country homes.

Miss Swanson, in the role of "Swiftie" Forbes, proved a strong attraction. During the absence of her father who is in Europe, "Swiftie" has broken all rules of convention. On his return he learns that parental discipline is a relic of a passed age and that his daughter insists upon continuing her adventures without restraint. "Swiftie" tries life in Greenwich Village and falls into the toils of a gambler.

In taking a last chance to retrieve her fast dwindling finances, "Swiftie" stakes herself against her debt on the turn of a card. She loses and promises to marry the gambler in sixty days. A few hours before the appointed time, a strange thing happens that would be unfair to tell. Let it suffice to say that "Swiftie" and her younger sister who had accompanied her, return home—"prodigal daughters." There is a tremendous climax.

Ralph Graves efficiently plays opposite the star and gives a splendid presentation of the modern young man who clings to clean ideals and fights to preserve them. The cast generally renders excellent support.

Doris May At Mystic

Motion picture devotees who prefer to laugh when they go to their favorite theatre will find plenty of opportunity to indulge themselves if they see "Up and At 'Em." Doris May's swift moving comedy now at the Mystic Theatre on Wednesday. It's an R-C Picture distributed by the Film Booking Offices of America.

"Up and At 'Em," like all Miss May's vehicles was fashioned chiefly for purposes of laughing. It has its touches of drama, to be sure, but the comedy elements sparkle and glow and make the picture a sheer delight.

Miss May is in her most fetching mood. A gay little madcap always she doesn't miss an opportunity to register all the varying shades of comedy and pathos that make her character in "Up and At 'Em," one of the most appealing to which she has ever lent her growing talents.

The story had to do with the adventures of a blithe little girl who takes life as one long good time. Doris May is seldom serious. And in "Up and At 'Em" she keeps the fun bubbling from start to finish. In the cast are such well known artists as Hallam Cooley, Otis Harlan, Clarissa Selwynne, J. Herbert Frank, John Gough and H. Carter. Wm. Stiller, who directed Miss May

in all her foregoing vehicles, served in a like capacity in the making of her latest R-C production.

yet respectful bearing, which are acquired by strict observance of the rules of naval courtesy and through the influence of a high esprit de corps. The nautical work demands an adequate amount of mental endeavor to keep the mind from growing listless and rusty—signalling, knot tying, splicing, roving and handling boats, sailing, boxing the compass, maritime customs all provide a fascination for the alert brain. The course offers excellent training in seamanship, navigation, signals, roving, sailing, physical development and allied subjects.

"The camp differs from all other military camps, in that it will permit boys between the ages of 15 and 20 to attend, at their own expense, and without any obligation to the Navy or Naval Reserve, a camp which gives the benefits of the highly rated private schools. Any parent, friend, or organization is cordially invited to select and send any boy or number of boys to this Camp for a period of one week or as many weeks as desired. Here is a splendid opportunity for two fold service—to your country and to the youth of your community. Officials of manufacturing and mercantile establishments are urged to send their junior male employees for a period of a week or more, thus giving the boys a splendid outing which in the end will react to the benefit of the employer. In addition to parents and friends we urge the various civic, patriotic, church and business organizations to each undertake the selection of a certain number of boys, paying the necessary expense of attendance of such boys. The first expense is the cost of white uniform which is $5.00, the uniform remaining the property of the boy. The only other expense is board, which is $4.50 per week.

"Your assistance in filling this Camp to its capacity of 250 boys will be the means of giving deserving boys a wonderful vacation. More detailed information can be furnished you on request. Please tell fathers and mothers of this splendid opportunity and invite them to send their boys. The Naval Camp can only be a success in the fullest sense by being filled to capacity each week of its operations."

ers stand, which was located within the part of the fair grounds formerly used as a show ring. The speaker had made only a few remarks, when the volley of fire came heling forth from the northwest part of the fair grounds.

The spot from where the shooting came was concealed with bushes, and it was estimated that the distance was 300 yards. Possibly ten shots were fired, all of which were aimed directly at the speaker.

Two guns are believed to have been used, as it was stated today that 38 calibre bullets were found in trees. People were panic stricken when they were being fired upon, and the bullets whistled past their heads, and through the trees.

Many people fell to the ground to lessen their chances of being hit, and others started to run. Many children and women were stepped on in the excitement, but none was seriously hurt in the stampede.

It was reported today that the speaking and initiation would be repeated tonight, and that the same speaker would be here, and the same place will be used.

It is understood that local people are believed to be responsible for the shooting, and an investigation was under way.

Charles Drennen, 708 North Arthur street, an employee of the Innis, Pearce factory, had a narrow escape from death, when one of the bullets passed through the sleeve of his left arm, going within a couple of inches of his heart.

Cecil Drennen, a brother, who lives at 412 East Seventh street, stated that last night about 9 o'clock, four men attracted his attention when they passed near his house, and took a diagonal cut down through the commons towards the race.

He said that 25 minutes later, the shots rang out, and in 15 minutes time, he was attracted again by four men running in front of his house, and going west in Seventh street, toward Main street.

The interruption of the program caused the meeting to disband, and a fiery cross was lighted as the crowd was leaving. It is understood that a large number of candidates were expected to be initiated at the close of the speaking.

Admittance to the grounds was said to have been by having the pass word, and Klansmen from all over the county had assembled for the meeting.

Police, Sheriff Hunt and deputies searched for several hours following the affair, but no clue was obtained. The gun used had a long range, and those who did the firing had a good start.

An appeal for bloodhounds was sent to Wayne Alter at St. Paul, but he reported that one of his dogs was poisoned a few days ago, and his other dog was unable to leave her small pups.

Local officers are of the opinion that the would-be murderers will be rounded up in time, and Prosecutor Ketchum has promised a stiff battle in enforcing the law against such lawlessness.

The purpose of this conference is to arouse interest among the Christian people in the 16,000,000 Jews of the world, and to call their attention to God's program for Israel and the urgent need of evangelizing the Jews, together with facts which show that God is doing a new work in behalf of His people, and that evangelistic efforts among them are being blessed by Him to their salvation.

TRIED AND PROVED: — As for God, His way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried; He is a buckler to all them that trust in him.

Fair Ground Shooting

The shooting into the crowd during a Ku Klux Klan initiation at the fair grounds Monday night, resulting in wounding of two persons, is strongly to be condemned.

The person or persons responsible for the shooting should be brought to justice, if possible, and be made to pay the penalties of the law.

No right-thinking person will condone acts of this character because they jeopardize the lives of innocent people and only serve to arouse hatred and ill feelings.

The organization holding the initiation at the fair grounds was perfectly within its rights, was not mo-lestering anyone, was not interfering with the rights of anyone and was not disturbing the peace of the community in which the initiation was being held.

Those who took it upon themselves to fire into the crowd of men, women and children can not be too severely condemned because only a strange-fate prevented numbers from being killed and those who did the firing from being hunted down as murderers.

Acts of violence serve no good purpose. They never settle any controversy, but add fuel to the flames.

All good people, regardless of their faith or belief, will regret exceedingly that anyone should be so thoughtless as to commit a deed like the one last night, and will cling to the hope that it will never be repeated.

Ill-Advised Legislation

Fire insurance affects directly the protection and credit of every individual.

Representatives in legislatures are prone to believe that every evil, or every practice that they think is evil, can be remedied by legislation.
They wish to regulate by statute personal and business conduct of every kind. Laws are piled upon laws; proposals for state and municipal ownership in various fields, and other paternalistic measures are common.
In Arizona a bill for a state cement plant and another for a state fund insuring state employees were introduced recently; in Colorado it was urged that the state should write automobile insurance; and a similar bill was introduced in Massachusetts, where an effort was made to compel insurance companies to invest forty percent of their premiums in dwelling houses.

In theory these measures are appealing, but in practice they tend to disturb business. Insurance is the basis of credit. When a man has a fire and his property is insured he wants his money at once. Insurance reserves must be kept in assets that can be turned into cash immediatly. If forty percent of insurance companies' funds were loaned on dwelling, and a conflagration should strike a community during a period of depression, it would be impossible for the companies to convert their mortgages into cash with sufficient speed to pay insurance claims as promptly as would be desired.

This illustrates an ill-advised measure which would undermine the stability of a business that is vital to the nation.

FIND MORE EVIDENCE

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 2—Continuing the investigation started Saturday when Judge Parvett and James Logan, operators of a local paint shop, were arrested as alleged leaders of an automobile theft ring, officials again raided the shop and arrested Ray Bodom, shop foreman on a charge of unlawfully possession of an automobile. The car, a high grade machine, practically new, was found to have been stolen in Toledo, Ohio.

THE FATHERS

By BERTON BRALEY

The Fathers of our Country were in no wise afraid.

Of all the might and power that George the Third displayed,
They signed the Declaration
Which made this land a nation.

Nor thought the price of liberty too heavy to be paid.

The Fathers of our Country, they held a vision true,
A vision of democracy, and bravely saw it through;

With all their strength they wrought for it
And what is more—they fought for it And held their purpose steady as brave men always do!

Because their hearts were fearless, because their aims were just Their spirit lives among us when all their bones are dust,

And if our nation flourishes
It is because it nourishes
The dream of human freedom in which they put their trust.

And this is our inheritance to hold and to maintain;

Not selfish isolation or sordid greed of gain
But faith in the ideal
Of making freedom real.

A light to guide humanity through all the world's domain!

The Fathers of our Country beneath it's soil are laid,
But those immortal words they wrote shall never pale or fade,

And while their faith enfolds us
And their great vision holds us Then, like our Country's Fathers we shall not be afraid!

Jack Kearns Takes Gambler's Chance And Agrees To Send Dempsey Against Gibbons

AGREES TO A COMPROMISE

Will Accept $200,000 That Has Been Paid Champion And Takes Chances For Last $100,000

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Great Falls, Mont., July 3.—Taking a gambler's and a sportsman's chance, Jack Kearns, in the few hours of this morning agreed to send Jack Dempsey into the ring against Tommy Gibbons July 4.

Kearns is taking a "stud game" chance that he will be able to obtain the $300,000 purse guaranteed him in his contract.

After a whole night spent in conferences, during which Kearns made overtures after overtures to compromise and help the promoters out of their difficulties, it was finally agreed that Kearns should accept the $200,000 that has already been paid him on behalf of the champion, and gamble on the gate receipts to make the additional $100,000.

Throughout the conferences, during which efforts were made to learn the real responsible authorities for the fight, Kearns offered every proposition that he knew of to make the fight good. He suggested a postponement of a month; he offered to fight for $250,000 and he expressed his willingness to go on the $200,000 that had already been paid to him, and to take his chance of getting the rest of the $300,000 purse from the gate after the expenses of the show, including the purses for the preliminaries, the salaries of the promoters and the special policemen had been paid.

As matters now stand the promoters would appear to be facing a certain loss of thousands of dollars in putting on the fight. The sale of tickets had been stopped and started so many times that no one appears to have a very definite idea of how many have been sold.

Consequently, in view of the complete financial chaos prevailing the conferences last night began to develop a willingness on the part of the promoters to let the match go by default.

For the past weeks Kearns has been the object of criticism for insisting upon payment of the final $100,000 before permitting Dempsey to go in the ring. But when the final conferences were reached Kearns appears to have been the aggressor in seeking a way out of the financial tangle and putting on the fight. The promoters appeared to be getting to the point where they figured calling the fight off would be the cheapest way out for them.

Jack Kearns left for Shelby on an early train. He intended to look over final arrangements there and see how the last minute tickets sales were coming on.

After the agreement had been effected, Kearns said he was actuated throughout by the desire to be "a good fellow" and a "sportsman". He declared he felt he had done his part inasmuch as he had not declared the contract invalidated at midnight when the final payment of his purse was not forthcoming and when it was within his legal rights to declare the fight off.

During the early morning conferences, George Stanton, Great Falls banker, and all the committee of financiers interested in the fight admitted they didn't have one single cent with which to guarantee the final payment of the Dempsey purse. It was then that Kearns made terms by which a settlement was reached. Kearns said today he was going to Shelby to look the situation over and have something to say about the sale of tickets on the final day.

During all the excitement the champion was spending all his time at the training camp playing hearts

with his sparring partners and a few friends who had jumped away from the financial frenzy of the town to keep him company.

Kearns said he had signed the contract in good faith and had turned down several good offers for the champion on the national holiday but that he had signed a contract with persons he thought responsible and that he was willing and ready to go through with it.

Kearns also declared he had been unable to learn who was in charge of the Shelby ticket office and that he was leaving this morning to watch the sale of the tickets.

The manager of the champion said also that he had reached an agreement with Eddie Kane, manager of the challenger and that they had agreed there would be a fight for the world's heavyweight championship in Shelby July 4 between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons.

GASSED TONIGHT

Preparations To Begin For National Elimination Race At Speedway
Wednesday Afternoon

FOURTEEN BALLOONS ENTERED

Will Be Released At Intervals Of
Five Minutes—Army And Navy
Represented

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—Inflation of the fourteen balloons entered in the national elimination balloon race will begin late today at the Indianapolis motor speedway in preparation for the take off tomorrow afternoon.

Throughout the night gas will be poured into the giant bags from mains laid direct from a nearby gas plant.

A special quality of gas has been provided for the balloons and tests of the product made yesterday showed that it was of a quality which promised a new long distance record for a national balloon race.

Men working in shifts will watch the balloons constantly from the time inflation is started until the pilots cast their moorings away and soar away on the long flight.

It requires ten men to handle one balloon. The fourteen balloons are lined up in parallel rows ready for inflation. They will be released at intervals of five minutes, starting at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The United States army has entered three balloons and the United States navy four balloons. Capt. Charles E. McCallough, of Baltimore, will pilot the American Legion balloon, the "American Legionnaire."

Ralph H. Upson will pilot a balloon for the city of Detroit, and H. E. Honeywell will represent the city of St. Louis with an entry.

Major General Mason Patrick, chief of the army air service will reach Indianapolis today for the races. Admiral W. A. Moffat of the navy is also expected to be here.

Weather bureau reports today indicated that the prevailing winds will be from the south and southwest, which will carry the balloons in a northeasterly direction.

It is expected that several of the craft will cross the Great Lakes and land in Canada.

It may be three or four days before the winner is known, in the event that the man who travels the longest distance lands in the Canadian woods and has difficulty in getting in touch with the outside world.

The Score Board

Coming from behind after being held to two hits for six innings, the Cincinnati Reds drove Alexander from the mound in the eighth and won from Chicago 9 to 8.

Two home runs with men on bases enabled the Boston Red Sox to defeat the Athletics 7 to 4.

Hamilton was invincible in the pinches and Pittsburgh won from St. Louis 4-1.

Babe Ruth got his 15th home run when the New York Yanks went on a batting spree and won from Washington 13 to 1.

The St. Louis Browns halted Chicago's winning streak with timely hitting and won 7 to 2.

Williams poled his 22nd home run and the Phils beat New York 10 to 4, scoring their first victory over the champions in 13 games.

SHELBY GOES WILD

Shelby, Mont., July 3—Shelby today greeted the magic words "the fight is on" with a western celebration that grew wilder every minute.

Gloom and disappointment that has hovered over the place for days turned into cheering at sunrise and the greeting given Jack Kearns' agreement assumed all the elements of a young riot.

First word was received over press wires where a group of fight fans kept watch all night. As they flocked into the street a strange throng greeted them.

Gentle women from the east who came with their husbands to see the cowboys, the mountains and the fight; cowboys from the round-up and the wild west shows, and leather-jacketed oilmen with girls in bungalow aprons on their arms joined

New York, July 4.—An analysis of the gate receipts of football, baseball, boxing, tennis racing and minor sport events show that they are outdrawing the United States Steel Corporation or the Standard Oil.

Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, went into horse racing for sport. But he has made more money out of it than he will get out of Teapot Dome—more money than anyone else during the season.

A tabulation result recently showed earnings of $194,000 for the Rancocas stable, of which he is owner. The amount is being swelled by new winnings every day.

Zev, the king of the 3-year-olds, contributed the largest amount, winning five first places—up to the time of this tabulation—for a total of $144,966. Grey Lag won four first places and one second for $26,000.

Mad Hatter contributed $8,200, Little Chief $7,700 and Tester, Flying Cloud, Outline, Rigel, Whirlwind, Knobbe, Alladin, Bud Lerner and Sheridan turned in purses from $5,000 own to $1,500. Total $194,000.

Add to this the winnings of the other stable owners, the gate receipts at the various parks, the amount taken in at the hundred or more professional baseball games every afternoon of the season, the paid admissions at the Yale, Harvard, Princeton and other football games, the big fight crowds and the amount paid to witness other athletic events and you have a figure that reaches hundreds of millions for the year.

Women Should Act Quickly

When a woman finds herself affected with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, dark circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health, and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

Salem entertained to dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Webb and daughter Hattie of west of Rushville, Mrs. Mathew Walker and son Howard and Arthur and Floyd French, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krammes, of south of Orange. In the evening Mrs. Lawrence Harmon and son Richard of Rushville and Mr. and Mrs. John Newham and Richard Wilson of Mays were their guests. The afternoon was spent informally with music.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stevens and son were pleasantly surprised Sunday when a number of friends and relatives called at their home to remind the former of his twenty-third birthday anniversary. At the noon hour a beautiful picnic in dinner was served and the afternoon was enjoyed socially. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Ulrey and daughter Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Tash and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gates and daughter of Rushville, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Patterson and son of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Matney of this city, and Mrs. Hattie Hall of Omaha, Neb.

The Young Ladies Mission Circle of the Main Street Christian church enjoyed a splendid program Monday evening, when the Circle was entertained at the home of Miss Rowena Kennedy in West Seventh street. Mrs. Curt Bester was leader of the program and she gave an interesting talk on "The Woman in The Early Church." The new president Mrs. Nettie Glendinning gave a report of the convention at Frankfort, Ind., held recently, and Mrs. Scott Hosier talked on "Women in Modern Missions." Miss Kennedy gave several musical selections during the program. In the serving of delicious refreshments, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Dale Fisher and Mrs. Wilbur Wilson.

Mrs. Maria Smullen entertained the Sunshine Embroidery Club of Raleigh last Thursday afternoon at her home in Bentonville. The following program was presented: piano solo, "Moonlight On the Hudson," Elsie Mason; violin solo, "O Sole Mio," Mary Mason; song, "You've Got to See Mamma," Vera Freeman; piano solo, "Libesfret," Mary Patton; violin solo, "Souvenir," Frances Hackleman; song, "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean," Vera Freeman and Willard Charles Smullen; trio, "Stories" Milo Aiken, saxophone, Frances Hackleman, violin, Albert Smullen, piano; song, "You Tell Her I Stutter," Mary Patton.

After the program a delicious two course luncheon was served. The trio Milo Aiken, Frances Hackleman and Albert Smullen rendered selections during the luncheon. Mrs. Smullen is an honorary member of the Sunshine Club. She proved herself a delightful hostess.

On the same evening, Ruth Donieker, John Boyd, Doris Darnell, Franklin Martin, Olin Davis, Clifford Patton, and those who assisted Mrs. Smullen with the afternoon program were entertained with an informal evening party. Music, dancing and games were enjoyed. An unusual feature of the evening was the participation of eight piano players in the entertainment.

Larline Council 296, Degree of Pochontas, will hold their regular stated meeting Thursday night at eight o'clock, when the installation of officers will be held. Each member is urged to bring a cake, as refreshments will be served.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Charles Leslie Overstreet, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Marie Elouise Matthews, of Crosswell, Mich., which took place at the home of the bride's parents, June 22. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Matthews, as maid of honor, and by Miss Adelaide Overstreet, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles L. Overstreet, father of the bridegroom, in the presence of the immediate families and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet will make their home in Saratoga, New York. The bridegroom is a grandson of Mrs. Sadie Mowers of this city and is the son of Mrs. Charles Overstreet, who was formerly Miss Dorothy Cole of this city.

"We may reasonably do more today than rejoice in possession of the imperial domain which the pioneers revealed and the life they made possible to the virile, aspiring and confident northwest. I find new assurances in recalling the heroism, the resolution, the will to conquer of these pioneers."

"Much the same spirit was revealed in the making of the central west. The lesson cannot fail to impress itself. In this test of self-reliant citizenship there came militant wholesome west. Greater things were wrought, greater accomplishment was wrought, greater victory was won in this wholesome, inspiring individualism than will ever attend paternalism or government assumption of the tasks which see the natural inheritance of the builders who may better serve for themselves."

JURY DEADLOCKED

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3—Nineteen hours argument found the criminal court jury still hopelessly deadlocked over the fate of Edwin A. Hunt. The jury was locked up Monday night after hearing the evidence in Hunt's trial, being charged with conspiracy with Richard Spie, former county clerk, to embezzle $10,000 in county trust funds held by Spie in 1921.

Skeletons of People Born Million Years Before King Tut Unearthed Near Paris

Paris, July 3—Geological experts, after detailed study of thirty or forty skeletons of men, women and children, unearthed recently at Creil, near Paris, have exploded the theory that they were those of victims of the religious wars of the reign of Henri IV., proving instead that they are the remains of pre-historic man, going back to the latest period of the stone age.

Tutankamen, the discovery of whose tomb in the Valley of the Kings has aroused such intense interest throughout the world, was born probably a million years later than those people whose skeletons have just been brought to light.

They belonged to the epoch in which man had learned the art of polishing stones to make weapons and tools. Priceless specimens of these have been found in the soil around the grotto which served as a sepulchre. They include lances, knives and other cutting instruments, arrow heads and even a saw, all admirably carved and polished. There are also bone awls and several pendants of greenish hard slate, punched with holes.

"The people of the neolithic, or polished stone age," said M. Louis Giroux, former vice-president of the Prehistoric Society of France, who made an exhaustive report for the International Anthropological Institute, "buried their dead in various ways. Sometimes they were cremated. Sometimes, as in the present case they were subjected to a process

In bloom and beauty — due to clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 32 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19. My complexion is as soft and rosy as a debutante's. My skin is as smooth and youthful as 40 years ago.

All women marvel at my looks when they see me play young girls' parts. But my same methods brought like results to scores of my beautiful friends. So I am convinced that most women can, in these ways, multiply their beauty and preserve their bloom.

Now I have arranged so all who wish may employ the methods which did so much for me.

White New-type Clay

The chief essential is complexion. Famous beauties have for ages used it. No woman can without it look her best. The users of facial clay stand out in any crowd.

French experts introduced clay to me some 20 years ago. But clay since then have been very much improved. The crude and muddy clays so many use today are out-of-date.

Able scientists have been studying clays for 20 years and over. They have found that a certain mineral-laden clay brings maximum results. They have learned how to refine it by removing the useless mud. The clay I use—my Youth Clay—is white and clean and dainty.

They have found some added factors which bring multiplied results. So the oldest users of crude, old-time clays will be amazed at this new clay.

What Youth Clay Does

Youth Clay purges the skin of all

that clogs it. Thus it removes the causes of sallowness, blackheads and blemishes.

It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and renew it. The result is that rosy afterglow, that seeming new complexion. Many women, in 30 minutes, seem to drop ten years.

It firms the skin, smooths out lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. My own face shows clearly what constant use will do. I owe my fame and fortune largely to this clay.

Abandon the se crude clays which I quit many years ago. See what White Youth Clay can do. It will bring you, as to me, multiplied effects.

All druggists and toilet goods dealers now supply Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay. Price 50c, and $1 per tube. Also my Youth cream, based on lemon and strawberry. This should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

See what Youth Clay does. You owe that to yourself. If you are not delighted with the first tube, your dealer will return its price. I want no woman to ever lose by taking my advice.

SENDS REBATE TO THE FARM BUREAU

Forwards Check For $848 As Additional Rebate

REFUND FOR THE MEMBERS

All Who Shipped Stock To Association In Indianapolis Will Be Benefitted By It

Charles V. Spencer, Rush county farmer who is a member of the board of directors of the Producers Commission association at the Indianapolis stock yards, announced this morning that the Producers Commission association, besides rebating 30 per cent of the commissions paid in by some 90 individual members of the association in Rush county, has sent a check for $848 to the office of the county farm bureau to be distributed as a commission rebate to members of the farm bureau who consigned stock to the farmers commission firm at Indianapolis.

According to Mr. Spencer, the farmers' company is rebating $42,000 representing 30 per cent of the commissions paid in, to individual members of the Producers Commission association and members of the county farm bureaus and livestock shipping associations.

"We are proud of the accomplishments of the farm bureau and the Producers Commission association," said Mr. Spencer, who went on to say, that the work of the organization has not only meant this great saving of marketing expense, but has been a great factor in stabilizing the market.

"The rapid growth of the organization and the results it has accomplished in its first year have exceeded all expectations," Mr. Spencer says, and he sees further development along these lines as more farmers learn the advantage of acting together in the matter of livestock marketing. According to Mr. Spencer, volume of business is the factor that will spell increasing success for this phase of the organized farmers program.

The refund checks will go out to the members of the farm bureau just as soon as the office can check the lists and mail them out. It is suggested that the members can make the task of checking the refunds next year easier, if they will use care in billing their stock, seeing that it is billed to the Producers Commission association.

HOW YEASTY CREAM CAN BE OVERCOME

BY E. H. PARFITT

(Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station)

Yeast cream always causes considerable loss during this time of the year and can be overcome by a little more care on the producer's and buyer's part, which in turn will yield big returns. Yeasty cream can readily be detected by its odor and foamy condition. In receiving rooms of creameries the can covers are sometimes violently thrown when the seals are broken and the cream foams out of the can. Also in transit if the cover does not fit tightly the cream is constantly oozing out. The actual loss of cream is of great importance but in addition there is a deterioration in the quality of the cream as a result of the development of the causative organisms called yeast. Yeasty cream cannot be made into the best quality of butter as the characteristic odor and flavor are carried over to the finished product, butter. The development of lactic acid has no restraining influence and it does not act as an inhibitory agent to yeast growth as in the case of some of the other cream fermentations.

From experimental results it has been shown that yeasts are common in nearly all cream the country over, and seems probable that whether a sample of cream becomes yeasty is largely determined by the conditions under which the cream is held or kept.

The yeasts that are usually responsible for yeasty cream grow at fairly high temperatures, 86 degrees being the most desirable, and as a result trouble is generally only experienced during the warm weather, and not often during the cold seasons. Important factors for the production of yeasty cream besides warm weather conditions are the thickness of viscosity of the cream. If the thickness of the cream is sufficient to prevent the gases from being given off as formed, the foamy condition and odor becomes more apparent due to the retention of the gas.

As yeasts are found in nearly all milk and cream produced under ordinary conditions, the logical means to suppress or prevent the growth of yeasts is by the use of undesirable temperatures. The undesirable temperatures that can be best used by the shipper is one which is sufficiently low to retard yeast growth. The temperature being 60 degrees or below.

Corn Borer Not Likely to Spread In-
to This State on Account of

OHIO INFESTED WITH PEST

All Infestations in That State Has
Due to Winds

The European Corn Borer, a serious corn pest became established in four separate areas in the United States and Canada at approximately the same time and presumably following a broom corn crop failure in the States which necessitated the importation of quantities of broom corn from Europe. These areas are in eastern Massachusetts, eastern New York, western New York, and Ontario, Canada. Natural spread has occurred resulting in spread from Ontario to Northern Ohio. The infestations farther east are of less immediate importance to the corn growers of Indiana except as infested material from those sections may be shipped into the state but this method of introduction is not likely at the present time with the excellent quarantine service furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Indiana is interested in the thorough-going quarantines now enforced by the Federal Department and is especially interested in the northern Ohio infestation which is now within 60 miles of Indiana," says Prof. J. J. Davis, head of the Department of Entomology of Purdue University.

"The infestation in Ohio was first discovered in 1921," says Prof. Davis, "and by the fall of that year was found about 60 miles east of the Indiana line. Fortunately it did not spread any farther west last year, this apparently due to the south and southwestern winds which are responsible for the natural spread, in a northerly and northeasterly direction. All of the infestations have been spreading north and east which is a decided advantage to Indiana."

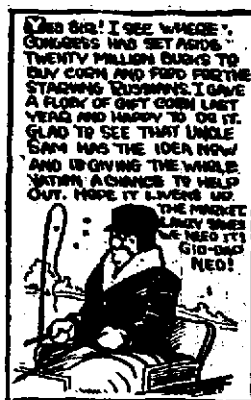

Regardless of the natural spread which seems to be away from Indiana and not towards it, the farmers of our state should be on the lookout for this pest and report any suspicious insects to the Department of Entomology, Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station, Lafayette, Indiana, for identification. The borer infests all parts of the corn plant, burrowing in the tassel, stalk, shank of ear, corn cob and the grain itself. The first injury which is likely to be observed before the insect becomes excessively abundant is the falling over and breaking off of the tassels. Such injury should immediately be sent to the Purdue Station for positive identification.

JOIN WITH FARMERS TO PRODUCE BETTER CORN

Realizing that corn is the principal producing crop of Hancock County farmers, and that the type and quality is not up to the desired standard. The County Farm Bureau in co-operation with the Kiwanis club of Greenfield and the local Corn Growers' Association, agreed to provide one peck of good certified seed corn to as many boys who would agree to take the same and grow it under the following conditions: To plant by itself and keep time and labor record; to select ten ears from the plot for show; to check up on yield basis; and to return an equivalent amount of good corn in return for that given him. It is planned to hold seed selection demonstrations with the boys, as well as to hold a Corn Show. Premiums will be awarded both on show, yield and record books. The rules also specify that the seed corn which is returned by the club members is to be sold at auction to the farmers of the county, thus tending to spread the good seed over wider territories. The work is under the direction of County Agent M. E. Cromer and the vocational teachers.

HEZ BARKER SAYS

HAS TON LITTER IN SIX MONTHS

Ohio Farmer Makes Record With
Winter Fed Ton of Pork From
One Sow in Short Time

ANOTHER GOOD SHOWING

Litter of Nine Pigs Weighed 2,035
Pounds And Another Litter Is Threatening to Repeat

A winter fed ton of pork from one sow in six months, and another litter threatening to make a ton within a year is the unequaled record made by H. M. Baumgardner of Fairfield County, Ohio.

A litter of nine pigs farrowed August 17, 1922, was marketed February 17, 1923, weighing 2,035 pounds, averaging 226 pounds.

In addition to good care and feeding the main factor which contributed to this accomplishment was the use of a "better sire" of which farm advisers and experiment stations talk so much. He used a pure bred, registered Poland China boar of approved modern type—not extreme weighing around 600 pounds. The boar is rugged but of easy feeding type.

The dam was a grade Duroc Jersey sow, weighing 350 pounds. This was her first litter.

During the gestation period she was fed a small amount of corn and tankage and had the run of a blue grass clover pasture. She was continued on pasture during the suckling period, and after two weeks was allowed all the corn she would eat, with a pound each of bran and middlings and a quarter of a pound of tankage daily.

The pigs were weaned at ten weeks, and for one month were given all the skim milk they would consume. Corn, tankage and a commercial mineral mixture thereafter made the ration until maturity.

"I found they would eat more corn by feeding both ear and shelled corn," says Mr. Baumgardner. "They would frequently squeal at the crib for corn when the self feeder was full and vice versa," says he.

An account of weight and feed was kept only during the past thirty days, but the figures for this period indicate a good profit.

On January 17 the litter weighed 1,497 pounds, and thirty days later when marketed 2,035, making a gain for the period of 538 pounds.

The gain per pig per day for the last month was two pounds, and 1.22 pounds per pig per day for the six months.

During the last thirty days they consumed 10.5 bushels of shelled corn and 24.14 bushels of ear corn and 28.5 pounds of tankage. Figuring the corn at 70c per bushel and the tankage at $4.00 per cwt., the cost and profit for the 538 pounds of gain were as follows: The market price was $8.40.

538 lbs. @ $8.40 cwt. $45.19
34.64 bu. corn @ .70 $24.25
28.5 lbs tankage @ .40 1.14 ... $25.39

Profit $19.80

This is a profit of $3.68 per cwt. or a total profit on the litter of $74.99, or 43 percent on the cost of production.

If the cost of tankage for the thirty days is deducted from the receipts for the gain made it will be seen that $44.05 were received for 34.64 bushels of corn or $1.27 per bushel.

The business man talks of "volume," "low cost" and "turn over."

CORN, HOG, GRAIN TO BE DISCUSSED

Forecast Of The Situation Will Be
Made By Group Of Agricultural
Economists, July 11, 12

CALLED AT WASHINGTON

Delegates Will Have Pig Count And Crop Estimates Available For
Their Discussion

A forecast of the corn-hog situation and of the wheat situation is to be made by a group of agricultural economists and statisticians, called into conference by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The conference has been called at Washington, D. C., July 11 and 12 when a forecast and resume of the prospective domestic and foreign demand for corn and hogs, and wheat will be prepared.

The conferees will have available the results of the Nation-wide pig count just completed by the Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Post Office Department, giving estimates of the spring crop and intentions of farmers to breed for fall litters. There will also be available the Government crop estimate of corn acreage and production to be released July 9. With these sets of facts as a basis for forecasts the Committee is expected to announce information which will be helpful to farmers in making their program for next fall and winter.

On wheat the Government crop report of July 9 giving the condition of spring and winter wheat and a forecast of total production will be available to the conferees. This information considered together with the latest available figures on wheat movement and supply in the United States and abroad will enable the Committee to prepare a rather comprehensive report on the outlook of the world wheat situation. Cotton will not be considered at this conference.

The conference will also prepare a report on probable demand at home and abroad during the next six or nine months.

THIRD PIG COUNT COVERS ALL COUNTRY

is Now Being Completed by
U. S. Agricultural Department

QUESTIONNAIRES SENT OUT

Tabulation of returns covering the third semi-annual pig estimate and forecast by the United States Department of Agriculture is now nearing completion and the results will be made public the end of this month, the department announces. The final report will give the number of spring pigs produced this year as compared with last spring, and include a forecast of breeding operations during the coming fall as compared with last fall. An effort will be made to give the results in actual figures as well as on a percentage basis.

More than 200,000 questionnaires have been returned to the department out of a total of 450,000 distributed by rural mail carriers in all parts of the country. Approximately 100,000 returns have already been tabulated. Tabulation of 150,000 returns will be given better than a 5 percent sample of conditions in the leading hog producing States, the department says. Approximately 10,000 reports have been received from each of the principal corn belt States.

The questionnaires also requested reports on the number of acres in corn, which information is to be used in connection with the department's crop estimate of corn acreage and forecast of corn production to be released July 9th.

AGRICULTURE IN H. S.

Bluffton, June 28—Upon request of the farming element of the county, the city officials of Bluffton have decided to introduce a course in vocational agriculture in the high school next year. The course will be open to all boys in the high school and will be a complete study of the fundamentals of agriculture.

CATTLE TOPPED MARKET

Ed Johnson Sold 62 Head Hereford
Cattle on Indianapolis Market

Ed Johnson of Rushville reports that his 62 head of Hereford cattle shipped to Indianapolis a few days ago, topped the market for the season.

Mr. Johnson purchased these steers last November when they averaged 315 pounds. He put them on light feed, December first, of Purina Steer Fatena and ground corn and by January 15, they were on full feed of three pounds of Purina Steer Fatena and ground corn with roughage. The cattle made remarkable gains while on this feed; in fact averaged close to three pounds per day since January 15.

Mr. Johnson did not weigh the cattle during the feeding period but was well satisfied with the results as they averaged 718 pounds in Indianapolis. The cattle attracted favorable attention while on sale and were eagerly sought by all buyers at the yard.

Mr. Johnson has consistently topped the market with his cattle and buyers have come to realize his cattle are always in prime condition.

Warren Co. Men to Study The Handling of Soybeans.

At a recent meeting of the Warren County Threshermen's Association, plans were made to conduct a tour to Vermillion County, Ill., where a large acreage is devoted to soybean production. The purpose of the tour will be to get more farmers acquainted with the handling and harvesting of the crop. Some farmers are hesitating to grow beans because they are not familiar with the methods of harvesting and threshing the beans and some of the threshermen are also hesitating to get proper equipment to do the threshing. It was thought that information on this phase of the work would encourage more farmers to raise beans for a grain or cash crop. On this tour, it will be especially noted how threshing machines should be equipped and adjusted to thresh the beans without cracking them and at the same time avoiding clogging up the machine with soybean straw. County Agent H. H. Madans is sponsoring the plans.

TELLS HOW ANTS MAY BE KILLED

County Agent Has Many Calls For
Methods of Getting Rid of Pests
That Infest Houses

MANY SIMPLE REMEDIES

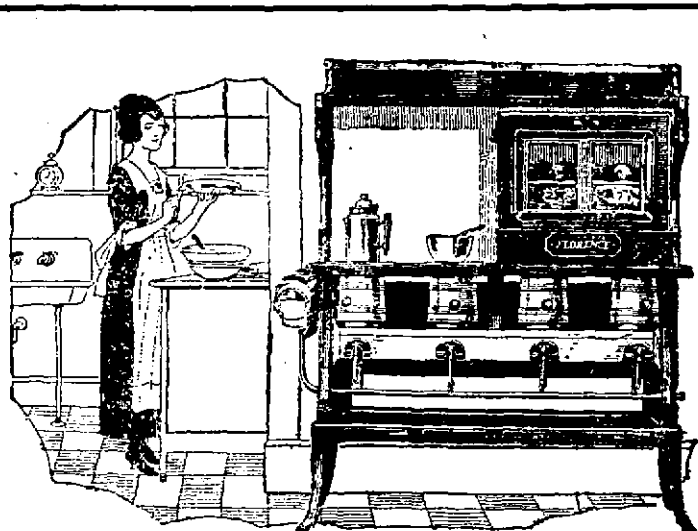

Tartar Emetic And Sodium Arsenate
Are Commonly Used As Bait
To Destroy The Nest

The county agent has received a number of requests for methods of controlling ants in houses and his recommendation for the control of the pests are as follows:

Where ants occur in lawns or where the nests can be located it is possible to eradicate the colony by injecting carbon bisulphid into the soil. Once the nest is located, a hole is punched into the soil so that it will reach the main portion of the nest, four or six inches below the surface, and into this hole a tablespoonful of the liquid bisulphid is poured. For this purpose a funnel is convenient. Afterwards the hole is plugged with soil to prevent unnecessary escape of fumes. If the nest is large several injections should be made around the main entrance to the colony. Carbon bisulphid can be obtained at most drug stores and care should be exercised not to have fire of any kind about, while making the application.

One of the simplest controls is one part of sugar and ten parts of tartar emetic dissolved in a pint of water. This is used in saucers and it is best to have a piece of sponge in the liquid to enable the ants to get to the poison solution to better advantage. Or, better, small pieces of sponge or excelsior soaked in the syrup may be placed in tin boxes, the lids of which have been punched with several holes and several of these boxes set in the house where ants are numerous. It may be necessary to renew the bait from time to time until the ants disappear and it is often two to three weeks after the bait is put out before the results are noticeably apparent. Small pieces of bacon rind, or chipped beef, or grease into which a small amount of tartar emetic has been worked is

When a farmer takes his product to market and sells it for say, a dollar a bushel, he is dependent upon the honesty of two measures—the dollar and the bushel.

The other day a crossroads storekeeper got sent to jail for manipulating a trick bushel basket with a false bottom that would slide up and down in a way that was grand, gloomy and mysterious. When using it to measure, stuff he bought from a farmer, he'd secretly shove the bottom down until it held at least a bushel and a quarter, but he would only credit him with a bushel. The buying power of the farmers' product was thereby depreciated by about twenty per cent.

Finally the farmers thereabouts got wise to the fact that the only way they could get what was coming to them was to enforce a reliable standard of measurement. So they put a good stiff jail penalty on using a fake measure, laid for that storekeeper with the trick basket and sent him to prison.

Politicians in Europe have been manipulating the other measure—the money measure—in much the same way. Some of them in America want to tamper likewise with the dollar. Here is about the way it would work out. Suppose, when the farmer brought his product to market, the basket measure was honest enough and he got a dollar bill for each bushel. He'd take his dollars home and save them. Perhaps he planned to buy some land next his own for a thousand dollars, and figured that in a year or so he could make it.

But meanwhile the politicians start to manipulate the base of the currency. They would change it from the gold standard to a fiat money plan from a gold guarantee to the mere say-so of the government that a piece of paper was worth a dollar.

The farmer wouldn't be watching the money-politicians. He would be too busy raising things. At the end of the year he has his thousand dollars. He takes them to the landowner and says, "I'll buy your land now—here's a thousand dollars."

But the land owner would say, "That is paper money—my land is worth one thousand dollars gold—the government has printed so much paper-money folks haven't much confidence in it. But I am willing to take a chance if you will give me a dollar and a quarter in paper money for each gold dollar's value of my land—in other words, I'll give you my land for 1,250 dollars paper."

Soft money would be only another way for the money-politicians to hand the farmer the same dirty deal as the basket manipulator. In the first case the farmer unknowingly gave a bushel and a quarter of his product, and in the second case he would have to give a dollar and a quarter of his money for a dollar's value in return.

In Germany they have carried the manipulation of the mark so far—well, it seems hardly believable, but if they did the same thing to the dollar, it would take over ten million in paper money to buy that land. The primary producer can raise his prices, but not fast enough to equalize this drop in the gold value of unsound money. That is where the catch comes in.

In the Geography class the children had been studying the zones. "And now," said the teacher, "in what zone is the highest grade of intellect and intelligence developed?" "In the parcel post zone," shouted Tommy, with great assurance. The Farm Journal, July 1923.

Why Group Fights Group

America is suffering from a lack of economic understanding. It is, therefore, that we find group arrayed against group—that we find the grower at variance with the producer, the producer with the consumer and both with the carrier. It is because of a lack of economic understanding that we find capital and labor frequently striving against each other. Yet each element is vitally interested in each other for the final success of the entire endeavor—in the farmer growing a prime crop and getting a fair return; in the carrier packing a palatable crop and getting a fair return; in the retailer satisfying his customer and getting a fair return; in labor aiding each of the processes and getting a fair return; in capital supplying the money and credit to make each process possible and getting a fair return, and in the consumer receiving a pure, nourishing, dependable, wholesome health giving article at a fair price. There is this community of interest in the production and consumption of human requirements that should prohibit strife among the producing and consuming elements.—J. H. Puchner, President American Bankers Association.

The farmer under present conditions must do the same. Mr. Baumgardner gets volume when he can market two tons of pork from one sow in a year. He has low cost when he can make a profit of 43 percent on relatively high priced feed, and two pay checks annually is some turnover for a farmer.

IMMATURE LAMBS INJURES MARKET

OVERCROWDS THE MARKET

Low Grade Stock On Market Only Results In Price Decline, Live-stock Warning Says

"Unless young and immature lambs are kept at home for further development and finishing there is serious danger of glutting the market with a low-grade product which can only result in severe price declines," is the warning sounded to shippers by the Committee of Trade Interests composed of livestock commission men, slaughters, retailers, railroads, stock-yard companies at Jersey City and New York, Eastern lamb producers, and the United States Department of Agriculture, appointed last summer to bring about stabilization of the Jersey City lamb market.

The Committee states that receipts have been light since the market movement of Eastern lambs began in May and that there is a noticeable tendency on the part of shippers to market a large percentage of young and immature lambs because of the rather high prices which such lambs have brought. These prices have influenced country shippers to pick lower down in their flocks than usual, thereby increasing the percentage of light weight, immature lambs in the market receipts, it is said.

Recent arrivals at Jersey City include from 25 to 35 per cent of immature lambs, the report shows. Despite a rather strong demand re-

MORTGAGED

(Farm Life)

It used to be considered a misfortune, if not a disgrace, to be mortgaged. Now, it is quite the common and proper thing. From figures just made public by the census officials and the Department of Agriculture we learn that the farm mortgages totaled $7,857,700,000 on January 1, 1920. About $1,200 to the farm, supposing they are all mortgaged, or twice that much if only half the farms have "plasters" on them. And that was three years ago. No doubt the mortgage debt has increased in the meantime. Heaven only knows what it will be when the next census figures are compiled, for right now, on account of the activity of the point stock land banks and the Federal Farm Land banks, and the private bankers, mortgages are being written at an unprecedented rate. The minimum government loan has been raised from $10,000 to $25,000, and it was never so easy to borrow money. Is this frightful? Perhaps it only means that farming as a great industry is following the other great industries into the new realms of credit. The farm lands are worth perhaps nine or ten times the amount of the mortgages, and this constitutes a good safe risk, surely. If the railroads, or mines, or public utilities were only bonded and mortgaged to one-tenth their value they would be regarded as remarkably solvent. Why should we be staggered at the fact that agriculture has a permanent debt running up into the billions? It is merely in keeping with general business methods of the time and doesn't indicate anything tragic or disastrous.

more effective for some species of ants than the sugar.

Arsenical baits are commonly used for the control of certain species of ants. The least complicated bait is prepared by dissolving two pounds of sugar in a pint of water. In another container, dissolve 1/10 ounce of sodium arsenite in a small quantity of water. Pour one into the other and use as the tartar emetic solution. Different kinds of ants are attracted differently and some will be attracted to meats or grease in preference to sweets. Thus, we have had good results by substituting chipped beef steeped in water, or grease, instead of using sugar.

Tartar emetic and sodium arsenite suggested above are poisonous, and should be kept out of reach of children and household pets.

nearly always be obtained by the use of well water, spring water or ice water. Well water usually has a temperature of about 55 degrees F. while spring water is generally a little cooler. The temperature of 60 degrees F. does not entirely inhibit yeast growth but slows up the rate growth very considerably and by marketing frequently, every three or four days, the development will not be sufficient to cause loss of cream due to yeasts. In overcoming yeasty cream there are two very important factors to be considered. First, to keep the temperature of the cream always at 60 degrees F. or below, the lower the temperature the better. Second, to market the cream frequently, holding it not exceeding four days.

BETTER FLOUR DUE TO WHEAT

TOO MUCH OF A MIXTURE

Purdue Authority Says There is A Scarcity Of Good, Pure Bred, Clean Seed Wheat

Lafayette, Ind., July 3.—Before better flour can be produced from Indiana wheat we must have a wheat that is of superior quality. We must get rid of a lot of miscellaneous varieties, and wheat within a variety that has deteriorated due to mixture, being grown on poor ground and disease, said W. A. Osterlander of the agricultural Extension staff of Purdue University in a radio talk broadcasted from the Purdue Station WBAA, recently.

Because of the scarcity of good bred clean seed wheat, the Indiana Corn Growers' Association took up the work of inspecting wheat fields and certifying them if they were of standard varieties and superior quality and purity. This inspection takes place just before the wheat is cut, and it must be 99.5 per cent pure, as to variety must contain less than one-half of one per cent of loose seed, no stinking smut, and must contain no rye, cheat or cockle. If these latter are present they must be cut out or pulled before the inspection.

The six or seven recognized superior varieties for the state are Michikoff, a smooth wheat of superior milling and yielding quality developed by Purdue Experiment workers; Michigan Amber, a smooth wheat, one of our standard for Indiana; Poole and Fultz, two smooth wheats grown extensively in southern Indiana but of rather soft quality; Turkey Red, a bearded variety grown on the black land very successfully; Rudy, a bearded variety of high yielding and very good milling quality and probably one of our best all-around bearded wheats for the state; Red Rock, grown in northern and southern Indiana to a considerable extent, but not very winter hardy in the central section. Then there are a few other varieties like the Red Chaff or Goens grown in central Indiana; Malakoff, which resembles Turkey Red very much, and the Gladden coming to us from Ohio. These are reasonably good wheats and can be grown successfully in Indiana.

The fee for this inspection for certification is $8 for 20 acres or less and 25 cents for each additional acre. The certified seed sells for from 50 to 75 cents per bushel above market price. Men are reporting larger yields of better quality wheat from certified seed, and each year the supply of certified grain is sold out before the demand is over.

Pure wheat, however, will not solve the problem. It must be grown on ground that is well supplied with plant food, either from commercial fertilizer, manure and in a good legume rotation.

SOYBEAN CLUB FORMED IN RANDOLPH COUNTY

The farmers of Randolph County have found the real value of growing soy beans for feed and as a soil crop worthy a place in their crop rotation. The acreage in 1922 was estimated at 3500 acres for hay, seed, hogging off and ensilage. This year, the acreage is estimated at 12,000 acres for all purposes, says county agent R. A. Fields. Owing to the interest the farmers are showing in this crop, one of the local banks is financing a Five Acre Soybean Club. There are 75 farmers entered in this club, the purpose of which is to encourage the growing of the soybean as a legume, for its all around qualities.

Farm Bureau Has Luncheons

The Farm Bureau of Allen County has inaugurated the idea of the monthly luncheons at which gathering matters of general interest to Farm Bureau folks will be discussed. These meetings will be business and entertainment combined. The Farm Women will have an important place on the next program, County Agent W. H. Showalter reports.

OVER 40 WORMS PREY ON FOWLS

Poultry Subject To a Variety of Parasitic Pests, Remedies for Which Are Very Simple.

Poultry is subject to worms that infest the throat, windpipe, intestines and esophagus. There are more than forty kinds of parasitic worms that may infest fowls of all kinds.

Of all the worms attacking poultry however, only the tapeworm is serious enough to need much consideration. In localities where many hogs and sheep are kept, poultry and water fowls seem to be more or less subject to tapeworms, and other worms in the intestines.

Intestinal worms usually give few symptoms of their presence. The chief cause is usually filth. Fowls affected with intestinal worms become dull and listless and stand about as if troubled with malaria. A laxative of Epsom salts at the rate of one-third teaspoonful for each fowl fed in a mash will be beneficial in such cases. In addition to freeing the intestines of worms, it will also be beneficial to the digestion.

Where tapeworms exist they are destructive to poultry, but on account of their rare appearance in poultry they are not usually considered a serious pest. Where they are prevalent, sections of the worms will be found in the excrement.

A number of forms of treatment are suggested for tapeworms or other parasitic worms in poultry. Whatever form is used, it can be most effectively applied in a mash mixed with hot milk and fed while warm.

A tablespoonful of powdered pumpkin seeds may be fed in the same manner.

Oil of turpentine, better known as spirits of turpentine, is always an effective remedy against worms of all kinds. One teaspoonful of spirits of turpentine mixed with one ounce of olive oil will be sufficient for mixing in a mash for 20 fowls.

For destroying worms of all kinds two grains of sautéine may be mixed with a teaspoonful of olive oil and given to the ailing birds.

Worm medicines recommended for children will usually act equally well with poultry.

Some poultrymen also give their fowls the tobacco treatment for worms. For each hundred fowls a pound of finely ground tobacco stems should be steeped for two hours in enough water to cover them. The bird should be fed lightly the day before the treatment and on the day of treatment no feed should be given until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At this time the extract of the tobacco stems and the stems themselves should be mixed with one-half of the usual quantity of dry mash and given to the fowl. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the remainder of the mash should be mixed with water to which has been added enough Epsom salts to make one-third teaspoonful for each fowl. If necessary, this dose can be repeated in another week. This is usually considered rather harsh treatment and may result in a lower egg production for a short time.

JOHNSON CO. PIG CLUB MEMBERS EXPAND WORK

The goal for Pig Club work in Johnson County was not placed on the number of entries into the club, but rather the type of boy or girl entering the club, since in order to make this work successful, members must be good boosters as well as co-operators. The 31 members of the pig club are divided into four community groups with one county leader. There will be monthly meetings of the club and each member will be visited each month by the County Agent or some other interested person. The club members were urged not to feed one pig, but rather two or more. By using this method of feeding, the boy will be able to note the difference between the two pigs as to gain, development of body, etc. It will also give a better chance to make a selection for the show ring in the fall. All but two boys are feeding two or more pigs. To make a display of the pig club work, each boy is to exhibit one of his pigs at the County Fair, with a record of the ration fed, gain made and age of each pig printed on a placard and put up on each pen. A great deal of emphasis is given on the keeping of the club record book as outlined by Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department.
